THE WORKS OF ANTHONY EUWER

Anthony Euwer is one of America's rising young poets. His books, often whimsical, show touches of real genius. In attractive bindings, they are desirable gift books. An excellent pick-up line.

THE LIMERATOMY

Illustrated throughout by the Author. 96 pp. Cloth, $1.00; Limp Leather, $2.00.

"The Limeratomy" is really a Limerick Anatomy. It humorously deals with all parts of the body from "The Nut" to "the Pigeon Toes," and tells of all human complaints from the cold in the head to bow-legs. It is for everyone who has an anatomy. It is a scream from cover to cover. It is the best limerick book in recent years.

RHYMES OF OUR VALLEY

Frontispiece by the Author. 96 pp. Cloth, $1.00; Limp Leather, $2.00.

This is Anthony Euwer's big book of verse showing life among the fruit growers of the Northwest. It is full of the tragedy and humor in their lives.

"The poems which make up this attractive volume are American in theme, and American, too, in their fresh, buoyant spirit and strong collaquialism."—Literary Digest.

CHRISTOPHER CRICKET ON CATS

Illustrated throughout by the author. 56 pp. Paper Boards only. 75 cents.
Introduction by Wallace Irwin.

"Cats" is a huge smile from cover to cover. You can read it in thirty minutes but you won't forget it in thirty tears. It drops into verse, it ambles in prose, it hesitates over many whimsical drawings by the author.

OTHER PUBLICATIONS

VISIONS - by Count Ilya Tolstoy

Illustrated by Ossip Perelma. 201 pp. Cloth, $1.35 net.

A volume of Russian stories by the son of Count Leo Tolstoy.

"Count Ilya Tolstoy has his father's grit for putting before the eyes whatever he wishes his readers to see. These stories are little masterpieces."—Boston Transcript.

TO THE NATIONS - Paul Richard

From the French. Introduction by Rabindranath Tagore. 79 pp. Cloth, $1.00 net.

A volume of essays on nationalism, brought to America by Tagore, and similar in spirit to his lecture on the same subject.

MY DICKENS FRIENDS - Frank Speaight

Beautifully illustrated by R. A. Weed. 112 pp. Cloth, $1.25 net.

Dickens' characters are here eulogized in verse by Frank Speaight, the greatest living Dickens actor. The illustrations are of him in character.

MOBILIZING WOMAN-POWER

By Harriot Stanton Blatch. Foreword by Theodore Roosevelt

After a careful study of the work that is being done by the women of Great Britain and France, Mrs. Blatch has returned to America to awaken her countrywomen to a realization of their responsibilities, not only in helping to hold the "Second Line of Defense," but in laying the foundations for the period of reconstruction that is to follow. George Creel, Chairman of the Committee on Public Information, Washington, D. C., says, "She (Mrs. Blatch) has a message to which every loyal American should listen, and I hope the book may have a circulation that will make it possible for that message to reach every home. Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth, Net $1.25

*MY FAMILY ACCOUNT BOOK By Blanche Geary

NEW TESTAMENT, THE (Shorter Bible.)

Translated and arranged by CHARLES FOSTER KENT, Woolsey Professor of Biblical Literature, Yale University, in collaboration with CHARLES CUTLER TORREY, Professor of Semitic Languages in Yale University; ETHEL CUTLER, Religious Work Secretary of the National Board of the Young Womens Christian Associations; HENRY A. SHERMAN, Head of the Department of Religious Literature of Charles Scribner's Sons; FREDERICK HARRIS, Senior Secretary of the Publication Department of the International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations.

The aim of "The Shorter Bible" is to present in logical order, the parts of the Old and New Testaments which are of most vital interest and practical value to the present age. The new translation is expressed in simple, dignified language, and verse and chapter divisions have been rearranged to conform to the sense of the narrative. The New Testament, now ready, gives a clear and direct account of the life of Christ and his great social, religious and economic teachings which have transformed humanity and furnish the only basis for the reorganization of society along lines of justice, democracy and good-will.

The Christian Science Church

WM. McAFEE GOODWIN, L.B., C.S., Christian Science Practitioner, Teacher and Lecturer, Author and Publisher, District National Bank Building, 1406 G St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

Cloth bound only. $1.50 net. Thoroughly indexed.

PRESS NOTICES.

CHRISTIAN WORLD—This is a timely, impersonal, dispassionate, analytical, unanswerable discussion of the weaknesses and inconsistencies of the Christian Science Church. It overflows with facts which provide the ground-work of the author's incisive arraignment . . . and is as clear as sunshine and as irrefutable as the decalogue. It is thoroughly up to date in its citations and statistics as these have been brought down to June, 1916.

THE EVANGELICAL MESSENGER—The spirit in which his exposures of inconsistencies in the organization are made is very commendable, and adds merit and pungency to his arguments and forceful statements. It is the only book of its kind on the market as far as we have any knowledge. The author has been very careful in supporting his statements of fact with profuse quotations. . . . His exposures of inconsistencies are mainly applicable to the church manual. It will be a very difficult task for any advocate of that church organization to refute the conclusive arguments of this trenchant writer and authoritative author. His versatility and frankness constitute quite an asset to his undertaking. . . . We wish the book God-speed on its mission of love and of usefulness.

THE PRESBYTERIAN ADVANCE—He brings and sustains many charges against the church he left. . . . There is added interest in the fact that Mr. Goodwin frequently appeals from the customs of that church to the teachings of the New Testament as well as to the teachings of Mrs. Eddy. Good will come if many evangelical church members will read this book. . . .

BAPTIST, THE REVIEW AND EXPOSITOR—The rule of the Church to avoid controversy will serve them well here, for they would find it impossible to answer this book.

THE LUTHERAN—Here is a shot from within the camp! . . . The writer proceeds to show much jugglery of principle in order to secure and hold certain property in Boston; the weakness of the Metaphysical College, with its limitation of students and its imbecile doctrine of conquering the world under its present narrow and abstruse government. The book is interesting to those who want to learn of the different opinions existing among Christian Scientists.

CHRISTIAN LEADER—This volume of 165 pages is rich. . . . We expect to quote considerable from this volume and recommend it to those who want to be posted on some of the inconsistencies of the Christian Science Church. . . . Mr. Goodwin is not seeking notoriety, but we believe him to be sincere in his exposition of some of their doctrine and practice.

STANDARD (Chicago)—The book is an outspoken protest to the monopolizing tendencies found in the administration of the Christian Science board of directors of "The Mother Church" and a criticism of several practices and tendencies found in the adherents of Christian Science. It opens up a little of the unsavory condition behind the scenes.

THE THERAPEUTIC RECORD—Its author is a man of ability and his earnestness is manifest at all times. The book can be read with interest and instruction.

ARTHUR E. GRINGLE, EDITOR, THE LYCEUM WORLD—He comes to the audiences of America with a message which, first of all, is the expression of his earnest convictions. Sympathetic, impersonal, dispassionate, yet earnest, analytical, forceful and eloquent, he discusses weakness and inconsistencies as few men can. His statements may startle, but the information he gives is authentic and can be substantiated. While he tells his truths graphically, gripping the hearer's attention, he never permits himself to forget exactness and clearness of presentation.

THE MEDICAL WORLD—This book is a scathing criticism of the "Christian Science" organization by a member of it and therefore is reliable.

Few to-day have read and fewer understood this great document. In this pamflet each item is considered honestly and boldly. In 52 pages there is enough matter for a big book. 10 cents.

WHAT IS CHRISTIANITY? WHO IS A CHRISTIAN?

For about fifty years the New Testament has been losing its hold on the churches. Mahomet has taken the place of Jesus. This essay is a defense of Jesus and Paul. 32 pages. 10 cents.

EVOLUTION AND MATERIALISM AND WHAT THEY HAVE DONE

Herein are displayed the shortcomings of "science." Darwin said he did not know, but his disciples assume that he did. It is to laugh! 32 pages. 10 cents.

CORPORATIONS AND TRADE UNIONS

He that oppresses the poor to increase his gain, And he that gives to the rich shall come to want.
—Proverbs xxii. 16.

32 pages. 10 cents.

Any three of these pamflets for 25 cents.

NEW YORK CITY

THE NEW

SHANNON BOOKS

The Personal Help Sex Series.

Personal Help for the Married. A volume for married and marriageable men and women, discussing the importance of marriage, its motives and ideals, fitness for marriage, and information of a vital character, that everyone should know.

Personal Help for Parents.

The value to parents, and their children, of this volume, can not be measured in terms of money. Eternity alone can reveal its importance to future generations, in helping parents to safeguard their youth, and in the building of character while young that will withstand the temptations of later life.

The "talk" to fathers and the "talk" to mothers throw a flood of new light on the all important problems of child conservation, child training and character building. And the specific and comprehensive guide to instruction in the delicate matters of sex—the beautiful "Story of Life" are revelations and a God-send to all earnest parents.

Personal Help for Men.

A volume of vital knowledge designed to help married and marriageable men and younger men to avoid the physical, mental and moral disaster due to ignorance of the laws of man's sexual nature.

The answers to questions, given in person to thousands of men, which have given them new hope for greater happiness and usefulness and relieved many worries about their real or imaginary problems, are here given for the benefit of the millions.

Personal Help for Young Women.

A volume of clean, chaste, scientific, practical knowledge to help young women in their truest physical, mental and moral development. By Mrs. Louise Francis Spaller and Professor Shannon.

While this book was written with the special view to giving young women vital knowledge of themselves on neglected subjects, the information is presented in language, thought and arrangement of topics so as to be of special value to all mothers and lady teachers who may wish to give appropriate talks to girls and young women of varying ages.

Personal Help for Boys.

Vital information for boys at ages of greatest danger to mental, moral and physical welfare, containing just what boys up to fifteen years of age ought to know and no more. Advice, counsel and help essential to safety in their relations with other boys. Also hints concerning proper relations with young girls. By Professor Thomas W. Shannon, A.M., assisted by Professor Richard W. Lewis and Emory Adams Allen.

Personal Help for Girls.

A volume of "heart to heart talks" with growing girls concerning their peculiar problems, including timely counsel, wholesome advice, and helpful instructions under the general subject of "Learning to Live," particularly while approaching and passing through the critical period of early adolescence. By Mrs. Louise Francis Spaller, author, lecturer, journalist and traveler; supplementary chapters by Professor Shannon.

Bindings and prices. These six volumes of The Personal Help Series are uniformly bound in Cloth, price $1.35 per volume, Morocco Grain, $1.90 per volume. Add 15c. per copy for mailing expenses.

The Tale of the Spinning Wheel

BY

ELIZABETH C. BARNEY BUEL

State Regent, Connecticut Daughters of the American Revolution.

Illustrated by

EMILY NOYES VANDERPOEL

Author of "Color Problems" and "Chronicles of a Pioneer School."

PRESS NOTICES.

"A dainty and attractive little sketch and will be found a choice gift for the holidays."—Hartford Courant.

"'The Tale of the Spinning Wheel' is a prettily bound book containing a graciously worded paper on the art of linen and woolen manufacture as practised in New England. * * * With due reference to the antiquity of the art, Mrs. Buel weaves some pleasing details of the nearer colonial period with quotations of interest from letters and diaries."—Springfield Republican.

"The author's main idea is that the simple homeliness of the time of the spinning wheel, with all the dignity of labor which its use implied, ought not to be allowed to escape from our modern civilization. There is certainly much truth in this conception and Mrs. Buel has done a good thing in bringing it home so forcibly to her hearers and readers."—Providence Journal.

The book is an example of the artistic work of the University Press, being bound in white and gold, with design of musket and distaff. The illustrations are printed in sepia on the broad margins or let into the text, which is printed in handsome type.

Size 6⅝x9 inches; 60 pp. Price $1.00; postage additional, 7 cents.

METAPHYSICAL NOVELS

By CHARLES FRANCIS STOCKING, E. M.

"CARMEN ARIZA." (Sixth Edition Ready. Now Being Filmed.) The dramatic story of a girl who rescued a priest from his chains of bigotry and death through her working knowledge of obsolete, war-causing human beliefs, of the poisonous weeds of mentalized religion, and the suppositional-opposite nature of evil and the methods of combating it. Its treatment of the questions of a "future state," of death, matter, and the origin and destiny of the human mind is the most remarkable and successful ever embodied in a novel. Colored frontispiece, cloth, $1.85 net. Leather, $2.25 net. De Luxe, leather, gilt edges, $2.75 net. Postage 15c.

"THE MAYOR OF FILBERT." (Now Being Filmed.) Strange story of the proprietor of two saloons and a brewery saved from the curse of his own business. "It is to the liquor traffic what Uncle Tom's Cabin was to slavery." The book that will make your town "dry." Offers that sort of education which is a stronger protection to government than a standing army. Particularly for wives and mothers to give their husbands and sons, as it is a book for men. Cloth, 3 illustrations. $1.25 net. Postage 10c.

"THE DIARY OF JEAN EVARTS." (Eighth Edition Now Ready.) In this beautifully written treatise, composed by the author in the sun-kissed hills of California, a young girl in the last stages of tuberculosis, hopeless of human aid and denouncing God and man-made creeds, receives a new truth—and with it a new sense of life. How this was accomplished is the vital message which this book has carried around the world to thousands of helpless, discouraged, sin-weary sufferers, becoming truly a "light shining in dark places." Cloth, $1.50 net. Postage 10c.

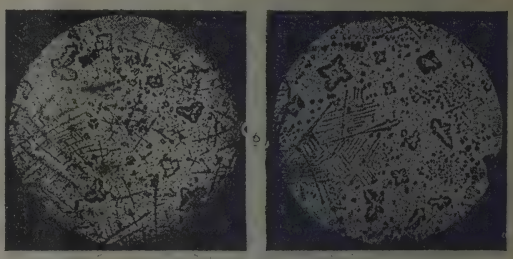
PHOTOMICROGRAPHS OF Crystallizable Chemical Salts

By

ARTHUR WILLIAM DOUBLEDAY, D.M.D.

Crystals from a Human Secretion

Crystals from a Known Solution



This Atlas contains two hundred and forty-eight pages, including one hundred and fourteen Photomicrographs of known Crystallizable Chemical Salts.

In compiling these photomicrographs no attempt has been made to exhaust the possible chemical combinations, but rather to present typical crystalline forms of various salts known to exist in the body tissues and fluids under normal and pathological conditions, thereby placing at the disposal of the student of research, auxiliary help toward the characteristics which confront him through the microscope.

6⅛x9¼, green de luxe cloth cover, stamped in gold, illustrations 2½" in diameter $6.00

The Jolly Earthquake
Or The Power of a Cheerful Spirit

By
RUSSELL H. CONWELL

In this wonderful little volume Dr. Conwell unfolds the secret of happiness and tells of the rewards that come to them that cultivate the spirit of good cheer.

"In its relation to human happiness and usefulness, it is one of the most imporatnt subjects I present" is what Dr. Conwell says about this lecture, put into book form for the first time. It is based on the Japanese tradition of the earthquake which came to Oshima, changing it from a barren country to a land of fertility.

Dr. Conwell shows how the coming of laughter has healed the sick, averted disaster, brought the wandering mind back to sanity, the smile back to the face put worry to flight and caused the sun to shine again in the life and heart.

Dr. Conwell delivers this vital message in his characteristically humorous vein, and tells of interviews with great men and women, and the jokes they regarded best.

An ideal book to drive away the blues; a wonderfully helpful little book to send to the son or daughter away from home; a friend that is sick, or disappointed, or discouraged; a book that teaches a great lesson that we all need to learn—the value of a cheerful disposition on the mind and body.

Good Health and Long Life

By Wm. D. H. Brown, M. D., Chicago

A remarkably interesting and scientific book of rare value to those long sick. Subjects usually dry and uninteresting are treated in an interesting and attractive manner. It is meat from cover to cover and contains facts of vital importance not usually seen in a book of this kind. As a physician says, it is sure "multum in parvo," full of good things from cover to cover. Says another, Every chapter is full of wisdom well stated. It is worth several times the price asked for it. About 300 pages; 8 pages indexed. Ask for circular.

THE THEORY OF DEBIT AND CREDIT IN ACCOUNTING
By Robert Gardner McClung

Cloth, 12mo, 14 pp., $1.00, postpaid.

Of this book, the comptroller of one of the great railway corporations says: "It is a very convenient little volume to have available for ready reference, as your treatment of the subject is clear and logical."

The president of one of the foremost colleges of New England says: "You have certainly managed to condense into fourteen pages what it would take most people from fifty to a hundred pages to say."

An experienced accountant says: "It is the best exposition of the theory of accounting that I have seen."

Psychology of Salesmanship
AND
Psychology for Business Efficiency

By GEO. R. EASTMAN, A.M.

Cloth, 8vo, 2 vol. 265 and 267 pp. $2.00 each, 1916.

A reviewer says:

"Two books of particular help and interest to business men, both young and old, who are awake to the possibilities of themselves and the twentieth century. The thought is presented in a manner which dispenses with the academic and makes an appeal which is wholly practicable and workable in everyday life."—Town Development.

These books give the business man a clear, comprehensive, well-organized knowledge of mental processes, and are helpful in practical affairs.

HISTORICAL and GENEALOGICAL

A Remarkable Settlement of Ancient Date

With sketches of early colonial history of southern New Jersey. A beautiful and unique book.

The narrative of this colony of colored people—mulattoes; 200 years old; always free, a colonial settlement, the oldest of its kind in the United States—is interestingly told with early genealogical records of the stock families of Southern New Jersey, and historical sketches of Fenwick's colony. The book occupies a place of its own among books published by colored Americans, and is highly commended in all parts of the country.

By Wm. Steward, A.M., and Rev. Theophilus G. Steward, D.D., Chaplain U. S. Army, retired. Cloth, 237 pages, 5¾ x 9, 35 illustrations, deckle-edged paper, gilt top and gilt plate on side and back, untrimmed front. Price, $2.50. Order from any book dealer. Liberal discount to dealers.

Successful Management

A 517-page book on up-to-date subjects. Written in a style that attracts attention. Retailing Methods and Store Salesmanship form a strong part of the book. Finanical Management, Household Economy and Efficiency, How to Speak in Public, Community Efficiency, Business Getting Letters, International Trade, Evolution of an Executive and other vital subjects are discussed. Several business experts assisted in writing the book. Black Keratol binding, per copy, $3.00, postpaid.

Salesmanship and Business Efficiency

By J. S. KNOX

A condensed treatise on the principles and application of scientific Salesmanship, Business Building, Man Building and Industrial Psychology. Interestingly and instructively written in terms that will fit the needs of the beginner as well as the experienced salesman. This book is used as a text in nearly 400 schools. It is used by many of the great business organizations of the country. Seven concerns bought 4,000 copies of this book for their salesmen during 1916. The book has aroused international enthusiasm. A book of information and inspiration, 295 pages. Cloth bound, per copy, $2.00, postpaid.

The Science of Judging Men

By DR. MORRELL

Your physical and mental biography is sketched in this book. It reveals yourself to yourself. The thirty-five original cuts, and the analyses as well as photographs of world-famous people, such as President Wilson, John D. Rockefeller and Lloyd George, together with the method of handling such types, make it invaluable to all who deal with human nature. These many illustrations and working cuts make it easy to practically apply every idea. It is an entirely new book, beautiful, practical, and inexpensive. 140 pages. $1.25 postpaid.

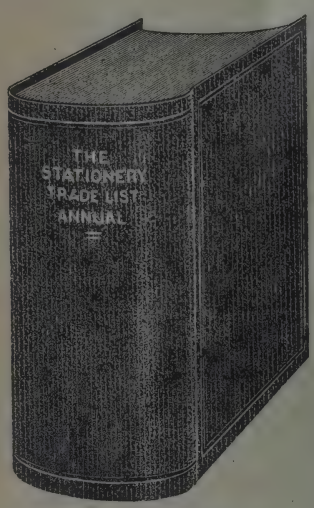
THE STATIONERY TRADE LIST ANNUAL



A co-operative stationery trade catalog-book which shall bind up in one cloth cover the catalogs or price lists of all manufacturers selling to the retail stationery trade. The catalogs will be arranged in alphabetical order, and indexed as to subject. The volume will be strongly bound in cloth and distributed to retail stationers. The size will be 8 x 11.

This is planned on the same lines as the Publishers' Trade List Annual which we have made for over 45 years.

Advance orders for the volume will be accepted before publication at $2.00 a copy.

WAYNE WHIPPLE BOOKS

The Story of Young George Washington

The Boston Advertiser in a long notice said: "This is not a history, except in so far as it includes the events of Washington's life up to the time of his marriage. It is a story for boys of the boy George; not the young prig of Mr. Weems' tales, but a living boy whose doings all American children can understand. His disappointment when his mother begs him not to go to sea, his surveying expeditions, his early fights with the Indians, and his later exploits at the Allegheny and at Fort Duquesne, are all recounted with liveliness, and with an understanding of the human values. The 'Father of His Country' becomes something more than a mere figurehead, a hero of history; he is brought back from the land of mythology, and made to live." And the Springfield Republican says: "The author has exercised excellent judgment in selecting his matter, and a capital story results."

The Story of Young Abraham Lincoln

The story of Abraham Lincoln's life is one of the most inspiring in American annals. Mr. Whipple has made a life study of Lincoln, and his graphic and vigorous book is crowded with anecdotes, adventures, and incidents—every one of which is true. The book should be read by every boy who makes the mistake of believing that success depends upon good chances. No boy who became famous had fewer chances than young Lincoln. He came into the world intellectually naked; was his own teacher; believed that all men are equal before God and before the law, and on this issue reached the Presidency of the United States; saw out the most gigantic civil war that the world has ever witnessed, and lived his life "with charity toward all and with malice toward none." A faith like Lincoln's would transform the world if our hearts could but catch its glow.

The influence of Lincoln's life will surely go on until the end of time. Think of what a simple, true-hearted, wholesome man may become to his country and its people.

The Story of Young Benjamin Franklin

The Record of Christian Work says: "Boys and girls will read and reread this book. The events of young Franklin's life from his earliest experiences, before the time he ran away from Boston, to the end of his eighty-four years, as here recited, are instructive and entertaining. Those who have not fully appreciated the life and work of 'B. Franklin, Printer,' will surely have a new view of this great man after reading this interesting book, which is heartily recommended to all young people."

"Many quotations from Franklin's 'Autobiography' show the keenness, depth and sagacity of this great philosopher, statesman and patriot. Love of truth, love of country, and love for humanity strongly predominate. As the author understandingly interprets Franklin's character, he points out, 'With him religion was tenderly interwoven with patriotism, and patriotism with him was religion of country.'

"Franklin's was truly a great life, and the honor he received while he lived was earned by hard labor and self-sacrifice. Whatever glory he had did not change his modesty and humbleness of spirit. To the end of his days, Franklin served his country with foresight, unselfishness, loyalty, and noble devotion."

Bound in Cloth, with Cover Designs in Colors, and with Decorative End Sheets. Large 12mo. Each volume containing Eight Original Full-page Colored Plates.

The Automobile Girls Series

By LAURA DENT CRANE

There is no room for doubt that these are the most interesting stories ever penned for girls. The stories are written of sane, fun-loving daughters of cultivated families. No girl's library—no family book-case can be considered at all complete unless it contains these sparkling twentieth-century books, written for present-day girls.

Little Black Rabbit

BY KENNETH GRAHAM DUFFIELD

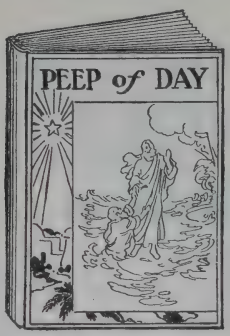
With Numerous Original Illustrations

BY JOHN F BURROUGHS

Young folks, who are always on the lookout for new worth-while literature, will feel that they have a real find in this collection of Negro dialect stories. Mr. Duffield, already popular with the older readers as the author of the famous "Bill of the U. S. A." poems, bids fair to become even more popular with the young folks. The many adventures of Little Black Rabbit and his numerous family, which included Billy Pink Eye, Johnnie Jump-Up, Dottie Dimple-Nose, Timmie Tiny-Toes, Slim Jimmie—"An' some what ain't got no names dey wuz so new"—form a book that has already delighted many youngsters and is certain to delight many others.

Cloth, Ornamental, $1.25 net.

Peep of Day Series



The design of these books is to lead children to understand and to delight in the Scriptures. If adults meet with difficulties in reading the sacred text, children must meet with many more, some of which these little books will clear up.

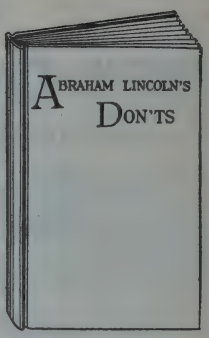
Abraham Lincoln's Don'ts



BY

WAYNE WHIPPLE.

To the lovers of Abraham Lincoln new glimpses of his remarkable personality are ever welcome. Wayne Whipple has collected some charmingly fresh aphorisms of Lincoln in his book, "Abraham Lincoln's Don'ts." This material was gathered from the verbal or written recollections of the President's many acquaintances and some of this data has not before been published. The book makes a strong appeal to young and old alike.

The Man Without a Country

BY EDWARD EVERETT HALE

Edited with Introduction and Notes

BY NORRIS H. LAUGHTON, A.B., A.M. (Harvard)

He who has never read this masterpiece has still a valuable work before him. At this time of war, patriotism and treachery, is this work especially important. In no other work are there such exceptional accounts and descriptions of patriotic sentiment. From the first sentence to the last the author holds the reader's interest, and when we have laid the book aside our only regret is that there is no more left for us to read. No American can consider himself well versed in patriotic literature unless he is acquainted with this piece of our national literary wealth. Every home, library and school should possess this small work, and no student, business man or woman should leave this book unread.

BILL of the U. S. A.

A Book of War Verses

By KENNETH GRAHAM DUFFIELD

Cloth, Ornamental, 50 cents, net.
Imitation Morocco, 75 cents, net.
Full Leather, $1.25, net.

"Somebody's boy has crossed th' sea,
T' do th' fightin' for you and me,
Let's call him 'Bill'—he's any man's son
That carries a pack an' shoulders a gun."

Claims a place of prominence among the poetic effusions of the great struggle.—Democrat and Chronicle, Rochester, N. Y.

"Bill" is the young fellow who answered the call to the colors, and this little book tells all about him in homely verse. The sadness of the old home after he had gone, along with the pride of the father and mother and all the people of the little town, are set forth in lines, that, despite the dialect in which they are written (or, perhaps, because of it) make us share in the exultation and the grief. Mr. Duffield, for the most part, woos no feminine muse, but he has found a masculine god of the rhyming, metrical line who has given him the secret of swinging, blood-stirring verse.—Evening Monitor, Concord, N. H.

Plain of name and soul, Bill, the subject of the verses in this little book, is typically American. Bill's father, Bill's mother, letters to Bill, sewing for Bill, and a prayer for Bill are each the theme of a bit of rhyme. Mr. Duffield's verse is full of patriotism and heart-interest.—The Leader, Pittsburgh, Pa.

War verse in high and fine spirit, with the touch of homeliness which will recommend "Bill" to all Americans.—Christian Advocate, New York, N. Y.

There is a vigorous martial spirit in the dialect poems entitled "Bill of the U. S. A." Mr. Duffield understands American manhood which in a war like this will never sheathe the sword until the Hun is conquered.—Post Express, Rochester, N. Y.

The verses appeal to the great body of Americans who have a service flag in their windows.—St. Louis Republic.

Every parent who has a boy "over there" will read it with pleasure, and, in more than one part, with moistened eyes.—Presbyterian Standard.

A little work which cannot but appeal to everybody whose "boy has crossed th' sea." In it the poet of the soldier speaks; an artist who understands the American soldier—his heart and his soul.—Evening Express, Portland, Me.

All the fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers of soldiers will enjoy reading these verses about Bill, for he is their boy, wherever they may live.—Daily Press, Utica, N. Y.

Every line tingles with patriotic fervor.—Milwaukee Journal.

A little volume of poems that give cheer and tell the story of the soldier in his own words. It breathes the fighting spirit.—Commercial Tribune, Cincinnati, O.

There is plenty of human emotion in the little book, emotion which springs from experiences which are often both heart-rending and ennobling.—Evening Gazette, Worcester, Mass.

Two Years Before the Mast

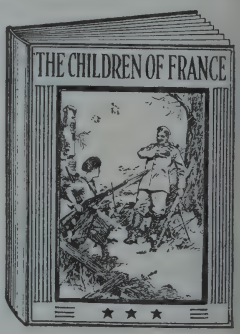
By RICHARD HENRY DANA

Richard Henry Dana, the author of Two Years Before the Mast, while at Harvard University, which he entered in 1831, became troubled with an affection of the eyes that prevented him from continuing his studies. He therefore determined to see what an entire change of life would do towards curing his malady, and with this end in view he shipped as an ordinary seaman on board a trading vessel bound for California. He was away just over two years, returning in September, 1836, being then in his twenty-first year. His book, which was published in 1840, is a faithful and detailed account of the voyage.

Two Years Before the Mast has probably been as widely read as any work from the pen of any American author. It is distinguished alike by its vivid descriptive power and its humor, while the fidelity with which it depicts the hardships of a sailor's life has helped greatly to bring about a better state of things in the mercantile marine of both America and England.

Cloth, $1.00 Net

The Children of France



In this volume are set down the stories of many devoted little French boys and girls who passed through perils that would try the strongest and bravest of men. How Remi, the Brave, won the Cross of War; the story of Little Mathilde, who saved the French garrison; Marie the Courageous, who remained at home when the Germans captured the town, and kept the French informed, knowing that if caught she would surely be shot as a spy; how the Hero of the Guns saved the day by working the machine guns; the story of the Little Soldier of Mercy who, though a timid lad, forgot his fears, and working under fire saved the life of many a wounded man; how little Gene locked the Bavarian Dragoons in the cellar of her home and captured the lot of them. These thrilling tales of the heroism of the Children of France will make the heart of every boy and girl beat faster; they will grip the heartstrings of all who read and bring them to a better realization of their duty to their Flag and to their Country.

THE AMERICAN ACADEMY OF POLITICAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCE

Origin and Purpose.—The Academy was organized December 14, 1889, to provide a national forum for the discussion of political and social questions. The Academy does not take sides upon controverted questions, but seeks to secure and present reliable information to assist the public in forming an intelligent and accurate opinion.

Publications.—The Academy publishes annually six volumes dealing with the most prominent current social and political problems. Each volume contains from twenty to thirty papers upon the same general subject. The larger number of papers published are solicited by the Academy; they are serious discussions, not doctrinaire expressions of opinion. The Academy publications give the most comprehensive account anywhere obtainable of the political and social questions that have been before the American people during the past twenty-five years.

Meetings.—The Academy holds four scientific sessions each year during the winter months, and it also has an annual meeting in the Spring, extending over two full days and including five or six sessions. The papers of permanent value presented at the meetings are included in the Academy publications.

Membership.—Membership in the Academy may be secured by applying to the Secretary, Logan Hall, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. The membership fee is $5.00; life membership fee, $100. Members receive all the regular publications of the Academy, are invited to attend and take part in the scientific meetings, and have the privilege of applying to the Bureau of Information for references upon current political and social questions.

NOTICE TO PURCHASERS

Orders. Each order should be clearly written and signed by the purchaser. It should give the post office, county, and State, and also indicate whether the goods are to be sent by mail, express, or freight; and, where the name of the railroad or express station differs from that of the post office, it should be stated.

Exact Titles. All orders should give the exact titles of the books as printed in our price lists; otherwise, we cannot be held responsible for errors in shipping. In ordering by telegraph, purchasers may use the code words given in this Price List.

Order Early. Orders are usually filled on the day on which they are received, but just before the opening of schools this is not always possible. To insure prompt delivery due allowance should be made for unavoidable detentions and orders should be sent early.

Special. We supply only our own publications. Books sent as ordered are not returnable. Orders for first introduction must give the names of the books to be displaced as well as those to be introduced. Keys and Translations will be supplied to teachers only.

Remittances. Each order should be accompanied by a remittance, unless the purchaser has an open account. Remittances by draft are preferred, but post office money orders or express money orders may be used, if more convenient. Purchasers who wish to open an account should apply for terms and give references showing financial ability, promptness, and general responsibility.

Mail, Parcel Post, and Express. Packages of printed books under 8 oz. may be sent at the rate of 1c. for 2 oz. Packages between 8 oz. and 50 lbs. may be sent by Parcel Post in accordance with the zone rates, ascertainable at any post office. Packages of any weight may be sent by express. In the absence of specific instructions, we will send packages by the cheapest transportation, charging the same to the purchaser.

THE MERRIAM SCHOOL SERIES

Webster's Secondary-School Dictionary

70,000 words and phrases. 1,000 illustrations. 864 pages, $6\frac{1}{4} \times 8\frac{5}{8}$ inches. Plain, $1.50. Indexed, $1.80.

Presents the largest number of words and phrases ever included in a school dictionary. The wide scope of its vocabulary, the clearness of its etymologies, the simplicity and accuracy of its definitions, the nicety of its synonyms and illustrative examples, and the helpfulness of its supplemental tables, have given this volume a great vogue in schools of all grades.

Webster's Elementary-School Dictionary

45,000 words and phrases. 900 illustrations. 720 pages, $5\frac{3}{8} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ inches. 90 cents.

Carefully planned to meet the needs of all the elementary grades and other schools in which etymologies are not taught. It contains all words found in the school texts generally used, and includes the technical expressions of ordinary business and words used in elementary sciences. Unusual attention is devoted to making a word's meaning clear to immature minds, especially by the use of illustrative sentences or phrases and by discriminating synonyms. Inflected forms are given when irregular.

Webster's Shorter School Dictionary

35,000 words and phrases. Fully illustrated. 544 pages, $5\frac{1}{8} \times 7$ inches. 60 cents.

Though small, this book is remarkably complete, presenting not only common words but technical and scientific terminology and up-to-date words needed by elementary pupils. It is unique among smaller dictionaries in making clear grammatical difficulties. Within its scope it is authoritative.

LATE A. T. S. PUBLICATIONS

THE PROPHETS AND THE WAR

By Charles Carroll Albertson, D.D.

Has the War struck home to you?

Have you sent some dear one to serve your country?

Does worry and doubt about to-day's world conditions ever grip you?

It will comfort you to read THE PROPHETS AND THE WAR, to read the prophetic words and the reassuring assurances of men of the Old Testament—Hosea, Micah, Habakkuk and Isaiah.

How marvelously well they understood the world and its miseries. How clearly they foresaw these things of to-day. And how they counsel us to hold fast and to be not afraid. Sorely troubled, they never lost faith, never for a moment—and we should not, and we need not. The same things beset them that are besetting us, and we may well heed their warnings and take to our hearts their comforting, prophetic vision of the final outcome of tribulation and of humanity.

THE PROPHETS AND THE WAR brings you the inspired utterances of these men. So clearly are meanings explained that the words of the prophets will be a beacon for your guidance and a deep, abiding comfort.

Order this book. Its possession and study will be a great comfort to the war-troubled reader. 12mo. Dark red cloth. Net, $1.00.

THE HIGH ROAD

By Emma S. Allen

is a story of the California vineyards and the wine industry—at once a charming romance and a mighty argument for Prohibition.

No book of recent years has brought out vineyard conditions more clearly. The precarious risks, the temptations and the misery of vineyard cultivation, are made strikingly apparent.

A sparkling romance is the vehicle used by the writer to bring her studies to the reader.

Read of Justin Lamont, wine merchant, and his daughter, Victoria of Glentworth, athlete and Prohibitionist, Victoria's schoolmate at the University of California. Glentworth finally battles for Prohibition; the girl follows her father.

Read of the Vintage Festival; of the King, the Queen, and the seven grapes—and of Victoria's turning.

The whole book is a succession of quick-moving chapters: The Bootlegger; Distinction Meets Difference; Giants in the Land; A Modern Jephtha, The Vintage Festival; The Revolt; Mother and Daughter; High Road and Low Road; Cold Shoulders; By Fire; On the Heights.

THE HIGH ROAD is a story too delightfully absorbing and informative to miss.

Cloth, 5½ x 7¾ inches. 326 pages. Illus. Net, $1.35.

AS HIS MOTHER SAW HIM

By Charlotte E. Gray

This book records the life of Mary of Nazareth in narrative form. From the very opening words: "Spring's sunshine, following the heavy winter rains, had turned Galilee into green beauty," immediately followed by a description of the beautiful Mary alone at dusk beside a fountain, right through the book to the birth of Jesus, Christ's later mighty works, Mary's self-sacrificing view of the necessity for his freedom of action unhampered by her mother love, the life of our Saviour is recorded in a novel, unusual way. The aim of the writer has been to make the story anything but a dry, chronologically arranged array of bare historic facts. While such facts are presented with the utmost truth, they are drawn against a background of cleverly laid local color which could not have been done so well without wide study on the part of the author. 16mo, boards. 254 pages. Net, $1.00.

ANNA COOPE: SKY PILOT OF THE SAN BLAS INDIANS

An Autobiography

Anna Coope's school on the San Blas Islands, off the coast of Central America, is indeed an unusual institution.

Little children and tottering old men, one of them a hundred years old, are class-mates—along with wrinkled grandmothers and mothers with babies straddled on their hips.

Utterly alone, Miss Coope has brought the sweetness of home-life and civilization to this isolated tribe. Can you imagine 800 untutored Indians—and ten liquor huts? Under their thatched roofs rum worked its havoc until her patient, ceaseless labors bore fruit.

An Indian canoe, sailing for days across a stormy ocean, was her means of communication with the mainland of Central America.

Send for this book: ANNA COOPE: Sky Pilot of the San Blas Indians. It will give your customers hours of delight and a rich fund of information. 180 pages and beautiful photographs of native life. Cloth, 5 x 7½. Net, $1.25.

ALMETTA OF GABRIEL'S RUN

By Louise S. Murdock

Read this book in some secluded nook. For hours you'll live with the mountain-folk, and with Almetta; with Pepper's Mary, Uncle Gabe and Granny Pop, the high peaks, the ravines, and the lonely, rustling forests of the little-known Cumberlands around you. The book teems with wit and quaint observation. You'll be picked up and carried into the heart of the Hill Country. Often you'll chuckle. You'll laugh outright at some of the shrewd sallies. Yet the crudeness, the rawness of life in the mountain country, is brought out with striking vividness. But you'll like it. Cloth, 5¾ x 7¾ inches. 244 pages. Illus. Net, $1.25.

THE MINISTER'S HANDICAP

By J. Wilbur Chapman, D.D.

"When trials are many, when burdens are heavy, when tears are blinding, when the heart is almost broken, then, as a rule, ministers come to an experience where effective preaching is possible." The pages of THE MINISTER'S HANDICAP are destined to be thumbed by a great number of the clergymen of this country. "When trials are many," they will turn to it to realize truly that others have trod the same pathway. The book's comfort will be a blessed balm to the troubled, burdened minister. A clergyman could hardly read the many beautiful, illuminating passages found in this volume without feeling himself thrilled and mightily powerful in the realization of his vital work.

Are you ever touched by "discouraged lassitude"? Do you ever preach "your own doubts"? Do you ever "substitute an ethical address for a sermon"? Read what a great business man says about these three points, on pages 31 and 32.

THE MINISTER'S HANDICAP is wonderfully lucid and absorbingly interesting. The style is distinctive indeed. The book is replete with anecdotes of striking significance to the minister of to-day.

THE MINISTER'S HANDICAP is destined to be an inspiration to those who may need heartening. It is safe to say that no clergyman will ever read it without acknowledging a benefit received. 12mo. Cloth. 145 pages. Size, 5⅛ x 7½ inches. Price, 75 cents.

PAUL'S CAMPAIGNS

By David James Burrell, D.D.

In this book, reader, you journey with Paul. Wherever he goes, whether to Cyprus or to Rome, you will feel yourself near to him, listening to his fiery, impassioned, fearless exhorting.

In writing of Paul's journey to Thessalonica, with logic that cannot be gainsaid, the author reasons out and points out the precise four reasons which actuated Paul in going there. Each incident of the apostle's career is given the same clear, lucid treatment that distinguishes this book throughout. And here it may well be said that PAUL'S CAMPAIGNS is a gem of clear writing. When you read the gripping description of what Paul saw at Athens, it will be brought home to you that here indeed is a study of Paul's wanderings which really appreciates the motives and difficulties of that courageous fighter for Christianity. Every preacher will gain a better and more rounded understanding of Paul's travels by a perusal of this book.

The four journeys are woven into a colorful narrative of such absorbing interest that it offers an entrancing means of studying Paul's goings and comings by land and sea. Four maps, one map for each one of Paul's four journeys, are an important feature. The book is a jewel not only for the clergyman, but for any truth-seeker. 12mo. Cloth. Four charts. 110 pages. Size, 5⅛ x 7½ inches. Price, 75 cents.

A MANUAL OF DEVOTION FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

By Judson Swift, D.D.

Do you know a soldier or a sailor?

When the soldier or sailor boy that you know is waiting for the battle to begin, let him have this little book in his pocket. Let him open it to page 94—to the "Prayer Before Going Into Battle." It will comfort him. The book will have earned its place in his kit at that moment.

Besides Prayers for Special Occasions it contains a verse of Scripture, a prayer and a meditation for 31 mornings and evenings.

"We believe this will prove to be the most helpful and satisfactory book of its class yet published."—William Phillips Hall.

"It is such an effective spiritual weapon, I am going to ask my Church to present it to all of our soldier boys."—W. T. Elsing.

Bound in Keratol. Blue for sailors, brown for soldiers. 104 pages. Size, 3¾ x 5¼ inches. Net, 35 cents.

PRAYER AND MEDITATION

By Judson Swift, D.D.

With the thought from St. John, "Men ought always to pray," the author of this little book has wrought out an entirely original series of meditations and prayers which touch the deeper needs of the heart. There is a Scripture selection, a prayer, a prose and poetic meditation and a suggested Scripture reading for thirty-one mornings and evenings. Beautifully bound in brown Keratol and stamped in gold. Size, 3¾ x 5¼ inches. 90 pages. Net, 50 cents.

THE ROYAL DAY

By Edgar Whitaker Work, D.D.

An Easter booklet of about 30 pages, bound in silk, each page bordered with drawn designs in delicate colors. The booklet is enclosed in an envelope. Both envelope and the cover of the booklet are of daintily beautiful white watered silk paper, suitably decorated in royal purple for Easter-tide.

THE ROYAL DAY is a very beautiful Easter essay by a writer whose gifts rarely fit the requirements in a work of this kind. Net, 20 cents.

Everyday Life Books and other Sets and Series, see page 19

ADAIR, WARD W.

Lure of the Iron Trail. Cloth, *1.00

"Like Begbie's 'Twice-Born Men,' this is a collection of tremendous stories of Christian conversion—the kind of conversion that makes foul men clean and wicked men righteous and weak men adamant against temptation. The material is all drawn from the life of railroad men."—The Continent.

Men of Steel. (c) In pamphlet or loose-leaf form. *.10; per dozen, *.80

Great men of the Old Testament form the subject of twelve lessons. In each lesson there are questions, a topic for debate, weekly thought, and a short bibliography.

Outline Studies in the Book of Romans. (d) Cloth, *.40; paper, *.25

"This very simple analysis of the Epistle to the Romans, by reducing to orderly arrangement the themes and teaching of the book, makes a plain pathway through a part of the Bible which laymen are disposed to regard as hard to read and hard to understand."—The Continent.

Wrecks and Heroes. (c) In pamphlet or loose-leaf form. *.10; per dozen, *.80

A course of sixteen lessons on New Testament characters, similar in treatment to the course Men of Steel, which it may well follow.

ADAM, JOHN DOUGLAS.

Paul in Everyday Life. (c) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.75

An "Everyday Life" Book.

A companion volume to the widely used "Christ in Everyday Life." Daily readings from the epistles with personal applications.

Under the Highest Leadership. (c) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.75

An "Everyday Life" Book.

In this new Everyday Life book you will feel the inspiration of a close comradeship with Christ—a comradeship which results in a life lived under the direction of the "Highest Leadership."

ADAMS—BABER.

Task That Challenges. (b) Buckram, *.25

By discussion and general questions on such timely topics as "The World War," "In the Training Camp," etc., this little book aims to lead boys to make definite life decisions and to enlist for immediate service tasks.

ALEXANDER, JOHN L.

Boy and the Sunday School. (Boy Life Series.) Cloth, *1.00

This volume of expert method and suggestions for leaders and teachers in the Sunday school aims to promote the better handling of the so-called boy problem. With forceful directions and practical insight it grasps the essential difficulties to be met and points the way to an effective solution.

ALEXANDER, JOHN L., Editor.

Boy Training. (Boy Life Series.) A Handbook of Suggestions for Leaders of Boys. *.75

This book is written by a group of experts having in mind the boy's all-round development. The principles of adolescence and physiological grouping are fully discussed. The boy's relation to the home, school, church and to his leisure time is treated, with reference to the actual facts of today. A chapter on the various existing organizations that are making a contribution to boy training and one on the spirit of service close the book.

Sunday School and the Teens. Cloth, *1.00

The very illuminating facts and suggestions resulting from a painstaking study of the various phases of the teen age problem by the members of the Adolescent Commission appointed by the San Francisco Convention. A book that will well repay close study by everyone concerned in this difficult work.

Teens and the Rural Sunday School. Cloth, *.50

An exhaustive study of the adolescent from the rural point of view. Sunday school organization is dealt with from the angle of the small town and open country, the various cooperative activities are discussed, and definite relations pointed out as regards the Sunday school, while leadership, teaching and the plans for a rural life survey receive adequate attention. The bibliography is especially valuable in its reference to these subjects.

BAKER, G. C.

Indoor Games and Socials for Boys. Cloth, *.75

The author has gathered from many sources games that will strongly appeal to boys, at the same time having a cultural value.

BALL, W. H.

Construction of Swimming Pools. .15

The very real dangers which may arise from the use of poorly constructed pools have led to a discussion of the whole question of indoor swimming equipment, and a thorough investigation of location, materials, lighting, drainage, etc. This pamphlet summarizes the results of this study, and is full of valuable suggestions.

BANKS, EDGAR J.

Bible and the Spade. Cloth, *1.00

Descriptions of those discoveries which have shed a direct and wonderful light on the Bible. A book especially appropriate for the busy man, and designed to awaken interest in a deeper and more intelligent study of The Book.

BARBOUR, C. A., Editor.

Bible in the World of Today. Cloth, *.75

An up-to-date presentation of the place and power of the Bible in modern life, showing how we got our Bible, reasons why it should be studied and practical suggestions as to the methods of study. Contributions by leading Bible teachers and students of this and other countries make it of unusual value and interest.

BARBOUR, C. A., Editor (continued).

Fellowship Hymns.
Single copies, postpaid, *.45
Per hundred, plus carriage, *35.00

A new book prepared to meet the needs of brotherhoods, Sunday schools and the various requirements of the church. The best in words and music, rigorously chosen from the whole range of hymnology and containing no "padding."
"Beyond question the best that has been put upon the market for many, many years."—New York Christian Advocate.

Making Religion Efficient. A manual of work with men and boys. Cloth, *1.00

"This volume preserves for us the heart of the messages delivered by the teams of specialists who led the Men and Religion Forward Movement. The survey charts are most valuable, and the book as a whole is a distinct contribution to the various lines of Christian activity with which it deals."—The Examiner.

Men and Religion Songs.
Single copies, postpaid, *.25
Per hundred, plus carriage, *12.00

This comprises selections from "Fellowship Hymns," especially chosen because of their suitability and popularity in meetings of men.

Principles and Methods of Religious Work for Men and Boys. (Atlantic City Edition.) Cloth, *.75

A resultant of a conference of eighty leading specialists and secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Associations of North America. It is the successor to the Bronxville Manual which has had such a wide circulation not only in Young Men's Christian Associations but throughout the churches. It represents the very best thought as to religious work for men and boys up to the present time. No pastor, no Association secretary, and no Christian worker should be without this book.

Service Song Book.
Per hundred, carriage collect, *20.00

This collection of songs has been made with special reference to the interests of men in military and naval service. Here will be found not only specifically religious songs, but some others which are adapted to social gatherings. Selected Scripture readings and prayers are included.

BATEMAN, CHAS. T.

Life of General Booth. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60

This book is intended primarily for the youth whose claims received unfailing recognition from General Booth in his work for humanity. This volume will be found as unlimited in its appeal as was the message of the universally beloved leader it describes.

BEGBIE, HAROLD.

Twice-Born Men. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60; postpaid, .70

A stirring portrayal of regeneration. Pres. Wm. De W. Hyde of Bowdoin College says, "It is a splendid verification of the truth and power of Christianity."

BOOTH, E. W.

Good News by John. (c)
In three parts, each, .15

Consecutive studies in the fourth gospel, covering a year and a half. Twenty-six lessons in each part.

BOSWORTH, E. I.

Call for Character. Boards, *.25
Paper, .05; per dozen, *.40

A stirring appeal to use one's life for the highest purpose.

Can Prayer Accomplish Anything Apart from the Man Who Prays? .10
Per dozen, *.80

A stimulating presentation of prayer as the relation between friendly men and a friendly God.

Christ in Everyday Life. (c) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.75

An "Everyday Life" Book.

Selected verses for daily devotional use with a paragraph of comment for suggested meditation so personally practical that it can scarcely fail, if honestly applied, to bring results. Each study is complete in itself.

New Studies in Acts. (d) † Cloth, *.60

Nineteen studies of the important incidents and truths of Acts put together in clear and attractive style.

Studies in the Life of Jesus Christ. (d) † Cloth, *.60

A thirty weeks' course of study in the New Testament. There are five divisions: Detailed Study up to the Last Week, chiefly according to Mark; General Survey up to the Last Week, according to Matthew; General Survey up to the Last Week, according to Luke; Detailed Study of the Last Week of Christ's Life, according to the synoptic gospels; Studies in Christ's Life, as presented in John's Gospel.

Teaching of Jesus and His Apostles. (e) † Cloth, *.60

The great subjects involved in the teachings of Christ and His apostles are here considered, such as Christ's Messiahship, the Kingdom of God, the Resurrection, the Holy Spirit, Prayer, Missionary Enterprise, etc. Thirty lessons.

Thirty Studies About Jesus. (c) Art leather cloth, small pocket size. *.50
Paper, *.25

In this series of Studies, Dr. Bosworth takes up the main points in the life and teachings of Jesus Christ. Through the use of thought-producing questions at the end of each study, relating to the preceding text and its application to everyday life and character, he throws new light on the meaning of life and its possibilities. The book makes an appeal to those who know Him to know Him better and to those who are indifferent to Him it is a challenge.

BRINK, B. DEANE.

Body Builder. Cloth, *1.00

A study of the contribution made by Robert J. Roberts to the development of the Physical Department of the Young Men's Christian Association through his theory, his technique, and his character. Drills and exercises are given that have been successfully used for years, and health hints in Mr. Roberts' characteristic vein.

BRINK—SMITH.

Athletes of the Bible. Cloth, *.40

An unusual series of studies of biblical characters in which the physical qualifications of the great leaders are made to emphasize the spiritual foundation of their lives, with the purpose of leading boys and young men to see that real religion is essential to efficiency and satisfaction. The impression is increased by frequent illustrations from the modern athletic world.

BROWN, JOHN, JR., M.D.

Outdoor Athletic Test for Boys. Paper, *.20

An effort to meet the demand for a standard grading and athletic test in rural schools that will create enthusiasm for physical development.

BROWN, JOHN RICHARD.

Jesus the Joyous Comrade. Boards, *.40

Christ is here presented as the strong leader of strong men; as one who enjoys doing hard things because he sees victory at the end. A character-building book on the order of the widely useful "Second Mile" by Harry Emerson Fosdick.

BROWN, WILLIAM ADAMS.

Worship. Pamphlet, .15; per dozen, *1.20
Per hundred, *9.00

A masterly summing up of "worship, its place in the religious life, and the difficulties which confront us when we try to realize its highest ideal."

BURR, H. M.

Around the Fire. Stories of Beginnings. Library buckram, *.75

Hero tales—splendid stories for camps and the home circle, especially appropriate for the librarian's "story hour."

Calling of Boyman. Boards, *.50

The vividly told story of a young man's religious development and the experiences which influenced his choice of a career.

Everyboy. Paper boards, *.60

A typical boy—a very human individual—such is the hero of this little story, which presents in the form of an allegory the development of a normal boy. Boys and workers with them will be interested in Everyboy's progress to manhood and will gain light on the problems which concern them most.

BUTTERFIELD, KENYON L.

Call of the Country Parish. .10
Per dozen, *.80

A clear, forceful statement of the present crisis in our rural religious and social life, and a strong appeal for the leadership of the best qualified men for the difficult task of making life in rural communities happy and effective.

Place of the Y. M. C. A. in the New Rural Awakening. Pamphlet, .10
Per hundred, *5.00

Kenyon L. Butterfield as President of the Massachusetts Agricultural College is thoroughly familiar with the needs of the rural community, and admirably fitted to discuss the place of the Y. M. C. A. in helping to meet these needs effectively.

CASALIS, ALFRED EUGENE.

For France and the Faith. Translated by W. E. Bristol. Paper boards, *.60

Fragments of letters written from barrack rooms and the front by a young French soldier. These letters of unusual charm reflect the spirit of the consecrated youth of France, the courage, patriotism, and large vision of duty a soldier of Jesus Christ owes his country as well as his God.

"I have seldom read anything more sincere and more touching; profoundly thoughtful and yet perfectly simple and natural."—Hon. James Bryce.

CHELEY, F. H.

Adventure of a Prodigal Father. Paper boards, *.50

This small book tells in an interesting and forceful way the story of a father, who, roused by the experience of a friend, starts out to get acquainted with his son and makes some startling discoveries. Fathers especially will feel the challenge of the story and for every reader it has an unusual appeal.

Big Brother Investment. Cloth, *.50

This book again demonstrates Mr. Cheley's knowledge of boy nature and its needs. He tells in vivid fashion of a fatherless boy, the strong downward pull of "the gang," his many exciting experiences, with the eventual awakening of all that is best in the boy through the confidence and friendship of a man whom he admires.

Camping with Henry. Paper boards, *.60

A vivid, wholesome picture of life in a boys' camp, in which Henry, a "tenderfoot," learns many new things in the course of some very amusing experiences, finds in camp life an opportunity to prove his nerve, and develops his adaptability and power of leadership.

Prepared or Unprepared? Pamphlet, *.10
Per dozen, *.80

The story of two young men who work on different sides of the counter in a store. One has been taught by his father to appreciate values, the other has been given everything but taught nothing.

Told by the Camp Fire. Cloth, *.75

Tales of camp life in the Rocky Mountains, full of exciting adventure of a novel sort, and with a refreshing sparkle of humor. Manly qualities are appreciated in a way that is fascinating and helpful to boys. A fine book for the home, boys' clubs and at camp.

CHELEY—BAKER.

Camp and Outing Activities.
Buckram, *1.50

Any leader who has had a camp go "flat" will appreciate the value of this wealth of social, athletic and religious activities for boys in camp. From this series of games, stunts, songs, plays, nature study, Bible study, etc., the busy leader will have no difficulty in arranging a program for either indoors or in the open, for all kinds of weather. The material has been thoroughly tested in the most successful camps in the country. Over sixty diagrams and pictures make everything easily understood.

CHESLEY, A. M.

Social Activities for Men and Boys.
Cloth, *1.00

A digest of material furnished by men who have done successfully the things they describe. Social events, games, entertainments, etc., all described as a means of attracting and holding men and boys so that they may be led into the fullest and happiest kind of life of body, mind and spirit.

CHESLEY, A. M. and B. H.

Mission Study for Older Boys.
Pamphlet, *.20

For leaders conducting mission study classes for older boys, using Eddy's "New Era in Asia."

CLARKE, GEORGE.

True Manhood. (M. & R. Series.)
Cloth, *.60

For the "un-get-at-able" man. A tactful yet uncompromising means of approach to the man who is a "good fellow"—but who leaves God out.

COCKS, O. G.

Engagement and Marriage. (Sex Education Series.) Boards, *.25
Pamphlet edition, per hundred, carriage collect. *7.50

The practical consideration of marriage as definitely related to social and economic conditions, and therefore requiring certain personal and general knowledge which most young men do not possess. A simple, straightforward discussion of all that marriage involves.

COCKS, O. G. (continued).

Social Evil and Methods of Treatment. (Sex Education Series.)
Boards, *.25
Pamphlet edition, per hundred, carriage collect. *7.50

For use as a basis and outline for discussion in groups of laymen, as men's clubs in churches.

COFFIN, HENRY SLOANE.

Christian and the Church. .10
Per dozen, *.80

An earnest appeal to the individual to fulfil his spiritual indebtedness. A summons to Christian endeavor that the Church may include the widest possible differences within a unity of spirit that shall make it function harmoniously and unitedly for its one divine purpose.

COOK, E. ALBERT.

What Has God to do with This War?
Paper, *.25

A discussion of the underlying principles of this war, in which the author attempts to show that this war is not the destroyer but the creator of faith.

CORSAN, G. H.

At Home in the Water. Swimming, Diving, Water Sports, Life Saving. Revised and enlarged. Cloth, *1.00
Linen-lined paper, *.25

The author has started thousands of men and boys on the way to mastery of the various strokes—under-arm, over-arm, crawl, etc. Over one hundred practical illustrations are shown.

DAVIS, OZORA S.

Meeting the Master. (c) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.75

An "Everyday Life" Book.

Our Lord's conversations with John the Baptist, the Woman of Samaria, Matthew, the Rich Young Ruler, and others, are studied one by one, in order to bring out the essential traits of His character, and His effect on the lives of those who came into close personal contact with Him.

Using the Bible in Public Address.
Cloth, *.75

Every layman in Christian work, either as a volunteer or a professional, faces the problems of using Bible material in addresses without such previous preparation as is afforded by a course of theological study. This book is designed to indicate the lines along which such laymen may prepare themselves to become effective and true expositors of the Gospel message. It is arranged so that it may be used as a textbook where desired.

DAVISON, W. J.

Gymnastic Dancing. Cloth, *1.00

Rhythmic exercises for classes of men and boys. Illustrated with half-tones and diagrams. Adopted by the Physical Directors' Society of the Y. M. C. A.

DEVINE, E. T.

Family and Social Work. Cloth, *.60

"A skilful interweaving of academic interests with the social ideal, the religious motive and the practical purpose, in a way to appeal to the student's mind."—The Survey.

DODS, MARCUS.

Bible: Its Origin and Nature. (M. & R. SERIES.) Cloth, *.60; postpaid, .70

Seven lectures delivered before Lake Forest College on the Foundation of the late William Bross. Contents: 1. The Bible and other Social Books; 2. The Canon of Scripture; 3. Revelation; 4. Inspiration; 5. Infallibility; 6. Trustworthiness of the Gospel; 7. The Miraculous Element in the Gospels.

DOGGETT—BURR—BALL—COOPER.

Life Problems. (d) † Paper, *.25

This series of twenty-four lessons deals with matters closely related to the life of young men, such as social relationships, temptations, livelihood.

Robert R. McBurney. Cloth, *1.00

One of the great men in Association history was Robert McBurney, "the leading general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association." His influence was felt in the work far beyond American boundaries. A life story well worth reading.

DRUMMOND, HENRY.

Ideal Life. (M. & R. SERIES.) Cloth, *.60 Postpaid, .70

At the time of the first publication of "Ideal Life," Dr. W. Robertson Nicoll in the British Weekly said: "This newly published volume of addresses by Professor Drummond will commend itself to many readers more than any of his other works. There burns throughout them a powerful flame that can illuminate or melt, and we cannot believe that any one can study them carefully and rise from the perusal the same as he was."

EARP, E. L.

Rural Church Movement. Cloth, *.75

This book shows the need and call for spiritual leadership in rural America, giving the causes for rural church decline and the awakening interest in rural religious and social problems, including specific surveys and definite plans for bettering conditions. A selected bibliography is appended.

EDDY, G. SHERWOOD.

Doubt. .10; per dozen, *.80

Practical suggestions for those having intellectual difficulties regarding the Christian faith.

Life and What to Live For. .10 Per dozen, *.80

Taking the scientific definition of life as adaptation to environment, the author in a straightforward and convincing way shows how a man may make his life right with himself, with God, and with society.

Maker of Men. Pamphlet, .10

A series of biblical, historical and modern examples which prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that Christ is the Maker of Men.

Right to Fight. Paper boards, *.75

A carefully thought-out and clearly stated answer to the question, "How can the organized destruction and horrors of war be reconciled with Christian ethics?"

Temptation and How to Meet It. .10 Per dozen, *.80

A powerful, sympathetic message to men who find it hard to live right—a message that reveals our spiritual resources in the fight, and the assurance of victory. In simple, manly fashion the author shows how to develop an evil-resisting character. The argument is peculiarly effective because of the quantity and character of the illustrative material.

With Our Soldiers in France. Cloth, *1.00

This book was published on Sherwood Eddy's return from a survey of the front in France. He had been with the American forces in camp, on the road, and in the training school for the trenches. In this book he puts before American readers the surroundings in which our boys in France are living, the physical and moral dangers they are facing, and the efforts of the Young Men's Christian Association to help them endure the terrible strain of the great conflict.

EDWARDS, RICHARD HENRY.

Christianity and Amusements. Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.60

"In this long-awaited first book of its kind primary emphasis is placed on a formative ideal, a constructive method and positive program. All dogmatism is thrown aside and an inductive method used throughout. No such systematic and adequate treatment of Christian principles in relation to amusements has been attempted hitherto."—Graham Taylor.

Popular Amusements. Cloth, *1.00

The peculiar value of this volume is attested by its publication in advance as a bulletin of the Extension Division of the University of Wisconsin. Under five classifications and by a unique method the author measures the extent and morals of commercial amusements, and gives practical suggestions, extensive bibliographies and a splendid list of questions for debaters.

EDWARDS—CUTLER.

Life at Its Best. (d) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.75

The third volume in the College Voluntary Study Courses, designed for first semester sophomore groups. A searching study of the Apostle Paul, not as a theologian but as a man of action.

ELLIOTT, HARRISON S.

A New World Democracy. (c) † Pamphlet, *.20; 50 copies, .15 each, postpaid; 100 copies, .12½ each, postpaid.

An outline study and discussion of the timely subject—"Can Jesus' ideals of a new world order be made the basis for an enduring world democracy?"—based on Bosworth's "About Jesus."

ELLIOTT—CUTLER.

Student Standards of Action. (c) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.75

The first volume in the College Voluntary Study Courses, designed for first semester freshman groups. A frank consideration of twelve outstanding student questions from the viewpoint of Jesus' standards of action. The book looks directly to the life and words of Jesus for a solution of the problems, avoiding the proof-text method.

EVANS, THOMAS ST. CLAIR.

Church at Work in the Universities. Paper, *.20

A clear, concise statement of principles and methods in the organization of religious work for students, with particular attention to the large cosmopolitan universities. Based on long experience.

EXNER, M. J., M.D.

Friend or Enemy? Pamphlet, .10 Per dozen, *.80 Per hundred, plus carriage, *5.00

A strong argument for sexual purity. It places the emphasis not merely on the avoidance of disease but on justice to woman, responsibility to society, the joy and power of right living.

EXNER, M. J., M. D. (continued).

Physician's Answer. .15; per dozen, *1.50

An appeal for sexual continence that makes men think. Contains a statement that continence is essential to the highest physical, mental and moral efficiency, and a list of over three hundred prominent physicians who signed it. Highly endorsed by leading educators, social and religious leaders. Every unmarried man should read this booklet.

Problems and Principles of Sex Education. Pamphlet, *.10

A study of the sex question as evolved from questionnaires filled in by 948 college men, and a statement of the principles deducted from the information thus gathered.

Rational Sex Life for Men. Cloth, *.50

A real dynamic in the fight against sex evils. It gives the true perspective to the whole problem by insisting that men should maintain high sex ideals, not merely because of danger to themselves, but as a solemn duty to womanhood, to posterity and to our whole social system. A book that inspires to purity.

FALCONER, R. A.

Truth of the Apostolic Gospel. (e) † Cloth, *.75; paper, *.50

The essence of the gospel in thirty lessons. The book will aid those troubled with doubts to understand the convincing reasons for belief.

FARIS, JOHN T.

Christian According to Paul. (c) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.75

An "Everyday Life" Book.

Studies in the message of Paul covering a period of thirteen weeks, arranged with daily readings—Scripture printed in full—and a summary of each topic for the week. This volume presents a practical exposition of Paul's idea of the new life according to the plan of Jesus Christ. The comment is right down upon the level of everyday living and is illuminated everywhere by a wealth of apt and telling illustrations. It is a forceful and original treatment of a great theme.

FISHER—BERRY.

Physical Effects of Smoking. Cloth, *1.00; linen, *.50

There is a prevailing opinion that smoking in "moderation" is harmless. Is this opinion merely a concession to popular custom? This book is a series of original experimental studies, scientific in spirit and method, to determine the effects of smoking on heart rate, blood pressure, return of the heart to normal after exercise and neuromuscular control. The book is intended for both popular reading and thorough study.

FISKE, G. W.

Boy Life and Self-Government. (Boy Life Series.) Cloth, *1.00

Professor Fiske's published studies and years of actual experience with boys are crystallized in this book. Some of the problems discussed are boy life in the light of the race life, the boy and his instincts, his struggles for character, the epochs of boyhood and youth, clubs for boys, by-laws of boy leadership, the boy's home and his religion.

Challenge of the Country. Cloth, *.75

"A vital, comprehensive and adequate book. It keeps close to the concrete, is replete with facts, shows a big grasp of the subject, and is well built for textbook use."—Prof. E. A. Ross, University of Wisconsin.

Finding the Comrade God. Cloth, *.75

This is a reinterpretation of the Religion of the Incarnation, in terms of war-time, masculine experience, both at home and "over there."

FOSDICK, HARRY EMERSON.

Assurance of Immortality. Cloth, *.60

"Death is but an incident in life." This blind sense of immortality will be translated into an abiding faith by the fearless thinking and buoyant optimism of this little book.

Challenge of the Present Crisis. Boards, *.50

The war-induced pessimism regarding Christianity, the Christian attitude toward war, the challenge of the present crisis to the church and the individual are recognized in all their enormous seriousness—yet the message of the book is one of stirring optimism.

Manhood of the Master. (c) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.75
Full morocco, gilt edges. *1.50
Pigskin. *2.25

An "Everyday Life" Book.

This little volume will lead to a better understanding and deeper appreciation of the Master's character as an individual. The significant events of His life are considered, but only as they illuminate His personality. Arranged for individual use and for Bible study groups.

Meaning of Faith. (c) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *1.00
Full morocco, gilt edges. *2.00
Pigskin. *2.50

An "Everyday Life" Book.

The author's purpose in these twelve studies is to clear away the misapprehensions involved in the commonly accepted theories of faith, to indicate the relationship of faith to other aspects of life, to face frankly the serious question of suffering as an obstacle to faith, and to expound the vital significance of faith in Jesus Christ.

Meaning of Prayer. (c) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.75
Full morocco, gilt edges. *1.50
Pigskin. *2.25

An "Everyday Life" Book.

This vitally helpful book throws light on God's attitude toward us and our needs. In a vigorous, impressive way, with fine illustrative material, the author considers three phases of prayer: As communion with God; as petition for the things we need; and as the expression of dominant desire.

Second Mile. Boards, *.40

Whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain, said Christ, and this book deals with the glories of this second mile. It is a book for the person determined to win, a book of inspiration to accept the extra duties, beyond those on the program.

FOSTER, ALLYN K.

Cartoons in Character. Cloth, *.50

Sharply drawn pen pictures of well-known human traits of character. The author does not mince words, and his descriptions of Willie Wilts, Kit Kalamity, Toby Tight and more than fifty others are very amusing, but they also incite the reader to take a personal inventory.

FOSTER, E. C.

After Decision—What? Pamphlet, .05
Per dozen, *.40

A word of fraternal greeting and wise counsel to the young man who has recently become Christ's follower, and who, on the threshold of his opportunities as a Christian, will find especial inspiration in this personal message and its suggestions for his guidance.

At the Forks of the Road. *.05
Per dozen, *.40

A brief, pointed, friendly word to boys who have reached the place where, consciously or unconsciously, they will make a decision regarding the Christian life. The author shows the attitude which, in fairness, one must take in considering the question, and makes the acceptance of Christ normal and essential in a way that appeals to a boy's heart.

Better Than a Fortune. Pamphlet, *.10
Per dozen, *.80

A new and interesting presentation of the old plea for clean living on the part of both the youth and the girl.

Starting to Teach. (c) Cloth, *.40

A book for leaders of boys' Bible classes. Studies in first principles adapted for use in the early stages of teaching. The author is an authority on the conduct of boys' classes.

FOWLER, H. T.

Wisdom Literature of the Old Testament. (e) † Cloth, *.60; paper, *.40

This course of Old Testament studies is based upon Job, Proverbs and Ecclesiastes. It deals with the Hebrew attitude toward God in the light of their peculiar problems, and with the application of these teachings to our times.

GEIL, W. E.

Man of Galilee. Cloth, *.50; paper, *.25

A life of Christ in the very words of Scripture, modified by observations in the Holy Land.

GIBSON, H. W.

Bible Studies for Boys' Camps. .10
Per dozen, *.80

A supplement to Mr. Gibson's book on camping. planned "to help boys hear the 'sermons in stones' and become better acquainted with God the Creator and Jesus Christ the Saviour and Friend." Twelve lessons and a list of thirty-one suggestive Bible readings.

Boyology. (Boy Life Series.) Cloth, *1.00

A simple and comprehensive treatment of the subject of boy analysis and boy training. Written out of a long and varied experience for the practical guidance of parents, teachers, and workers with boys.

Camping for Boys. Canvas, illus., 1.00

A complete authoritative handbook telling how to select a site, build fires, cook, insure proper sanitation, care for the sick, give first aid to the injured, check up a list of necessary articles, play rainy-day games, etc. Mr. Gibson has written out of a twenty-year experience and some of the chapters have been revised by other experts. Used and recommended by the Boy Scouts.

Services of Worship for Boys.
Single copy, postpaid. *.45
Per hundred, plus carriage. *35.00

Services of music, responses and prayers suited to boys. The author has used similar services in boys' meetings, camps and conferences with remarkable results in dispelling restlessness, and making the work of the speaker effective. The services cover a good number of subjects, and music is provided for all the hymns. Special sections for out-of-doors and round the camp fire.

GLOVER, T. R.

Jesus of History. Cloth, *1.00

"Dr. Glover starts with a literary and human interest in the things said and the person who said them, and he soon gets to something too great for any theory to contain and far nearer to the heart's need. He takes the words of Jesus and sets himself before them, and asks: What do they say? How do they say it? What does the speaker mean?—questioning every word to know what Jesus thought, and, still more, felt about God, sin, nature, and man."—The Nation (London).

Harry Emerson Fosdick says: "I know of no other book in existence that puts the matter with such a combination of human interest, simplicity and scholarly reliability."
It is a book of genuine interest and help to the student of religion, to the minister of the gospel and to every Christian layman.

GOODMAN, F. S.

Another Story by Dr. Luke. (c) Arranged for correspondence study.
Lesson sets complete, *.15

Fifteen short readings to acquaint the student with the story of the founding of the Christian church as recorded in "the Acts of the Apostles."

GRINNELL, ELIZABETH.

Thoughts for the Kit-Bag. Cloth, *.75
Foreword by Malcolm James MacLeod.

A succession of paragraphs which have a rare literary quality and express unusual sympathy, humor and fineness of feeling. Though the book is addressed primarily to soldiers, its message of courage and cheer growing out of firm faith in God will be appreciated by many who are not in the ranks.

GROVES, ERNEST R.

Moral Sanitation. Cloth, *1.50

In this book some of the most recently developed principles of modern psychology are made available for the practical worker with men and boys. It is untechnical and preeminently practical, selecting out of the masses of material gathered by modern research such as will be found most useful in guiding the development of character. The book is constructive; it is an endeavor to indicate how moral collapse may be prevented.

Rural Problems of Today. Cloth, *1.00

Constructive thinking on vital problems in rural life from the point of view of the psychologist and the social worker, and expressed in clear and attractive form.

Using the Resources of the Country Church. Cloth, *.75

A plea for greater conservation of the moral forces and opportunities to be found in the small community. It throws new light on the moral aspects of the family, recreation, physical, mental health and other elements in community life. It summons the country church to meet its supreme social opportunity—a call to rural statesmanship.

What Kind of a Fight Are We In? Pamphlet, *.25

American Idealism, in defense of which we went in, is set against the background of the German adaptation of the Darwinian theory. Then follow timely discussions of "Christianity and the War," and "Religion and the Future."

GULICK, LUTHER HALSEY.

Dynamic of Manhood. Cloth, *.75

An original treatment of the dominating force in a man's life—love, and its four chief channels of expression—towards friend, woman, children, and God. Beginning with a consideration from the scientific standpoint of the physical basis of love, as well as its significance for character, the author deals with the various hungers of the human heart in a way which inspires a more thoughtful and reverent use of a man's powers.

Moral Conditions Surrounding Our Troops Abroad. Cloth, *1.00

Dr. Gulick has but recently returned from abroad and in this report he gives a résumé of the actual status of the disease evil among our men and of the steps already taken for curing and preventing this evil.

HICKS, H. W.

Memorial of Horace William Rose. Cloth, *.65

A rarely successful student worker. Rose was bright, cheerful, and intense. The story of his brief but promising life is well told here.

HINCKLEY, G. W.

Roughing It with Boys. (Boy Life Series.) Cloth, *.75

Brimful of human interest, these episodes savor delightfully of real camp life where fun-loving nature finds wholesome outlet in purposeful energy and through the significance of commonplace incidents the words "comrade" and "leader" take on new meaning.

Story of Dan McDonald. Cloth, *.25 Paper, .05; per dozen, *.40

A bright, stimulating story of a real boy, a strong, manly fellow who strove for the highest things.

HOBART, ALVAH S.

Religion for Men. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60

"Not only does the author seek to make religion real to the hearts and lives of men, but he presents the subject in such a clear, concise and broadminded manner that it becomes attractive to them."—The Christian Work and Evangelist.

HODGE, G. B.

Association Data Visualized. Paper, *.75

Graphic studies of various features and many striking histograms of outstanding facts of the past fifty years; the development of membership, employed officers, property, current expenses, activities, the trend of the movement in relation to that of other movements, etc. It is the first book of its kind and is highly commended.

Association Educational Work. (For Men and Boys.) Cloth, *1.00; paper, *.75

Object, place, features, organization and conduct of supplementary education under auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association.
A working manual on the principles, methods and means of meeting the vocational, cultural and civic needs of men and boys. Among other topics it treats of class work in over 100 subjects; 80 or more varieties of clubs; a wide range of subjects and details for lectures and practical talks; libraries and reading-room facilities; advertising; fees; courses of study; equipment; finance and reports. Sections on day work, apprentice schools, teachers, extension work, thrift, supervision, etc. No Association committeeman or paid officer in any capacity can afford to be without this volume.

HOLDEN, J. STUART.

Gospel of the Second Chance. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60 postpaid, .70

A message to those who, despite honest intent of heart, have somehow failed of the grace of God. The author's purpose is to emphasize the renewal of opportunity which God offers as the expression of His great mercy—the confidence of a great love.

HOOKE, S. H.

Christ and the Kingdom of God. Cloth, *.60

This is a personal study of Jesus' life from the viewpoint of the great conflict between His ideals for the kingdom and the national hopes of His kingdom. Thus the study of the Gospel centers round the four great crises in Jesus' life—the temptation, the visit of John's disciples, the confession of Peter, and the crucifixion.

HOOKER, EDITH HOUGHTON.

Life's Clinic. Cloth, *.40

A series of sketches written from between the lines of actual medical cases. A really powerful handling of a difficult subject resulting in the strongest kind of a plea for clean living.

HOOKER, EDITH H. (continued).

Frank J. Osborne, The New York Social Hygiene Society, Inc., writes: "I feel that this is one of the most useful little booklets on this subject that has even been published, and if its information could become a part of the knowledge of every young man, the venereal problem would have been hit the hardest blow possible."

HORNE, C. SILVESTER.

Life That Is Easy. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60

A vivid picture of human nature at its best. The word "easy" is not used as the lazy man uses it. The author presents Christianity as the only method of getting the highest result with no waste of effort or time—the easiest way to do hard things.

Relationships of Life. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60

This book deals with applications of the principles laid down in "The Life That is Easy." The Christian World says: "Mr. Horne is a close observer of men and manners and his words ring true to life; his counsel is practical and sensible and his appeals to idealism inspiring." Both books are highly commended as gifts for young men.

HORNE, H. H.

Leadership of Bible Study Groups. Cloth, *.50

"This volume is a real contribution to Bible study, not only in colleges, but wherever scholarly work is aimed at."—William D. Murray, Plainfield, N. J.

Modern Problems as Jesus Saw Them. Cloth, *.75

Men are coming to realize that they must go back to Christ for any adequate solution of the pressing problems of our day. This volume masses in an interesting and conclusive form the events in His life which brought Him into contact with many questions, and gives also His actual teaching, so that each problem is approached from two points of view. While not technically a Bible study book, it lends itself to group discussion.

HORTON, R. F. and Others.

Youth and Life. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60

Twenty-seven chapters by a score of distinguished authors. The topics cover a pretty complete view of character development. One quotation will serve to give the keynote: "Manliness is a matter of culture rather than fate."

A keen study of the elemental factors involved in the use of force, whether manifested in international, civic or social relations, or in personal conduct. An effort to respond to the insistent call for larger and more conclusive thinking regarding the application of the principles of Jesus Christ to international and interracial relationships.

McAFEE, CLELAND B.

Psalms of the Social Life. (c) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.75

An "Everyday Life" Book.

Studies in the Psalms covering a period of thirteen weeks, arranged with daily readings—Scripture printed in full—and a summary of the topic for each week. The studies are topical, covering a range of most vital and interesting passages in the Psalms dealing with the social life of men. This book is a sympathetic unfolding of the significance of some of the most wonderful messages of Hebrew poetry.

McBURNEY—BOOTH.

Conversations of Christ. (c) In two parts, each, *.15

Each part contains twenty-six lessons, consisting of suggestive questions on a specific conversation of Christ with some person or group. Adapted to general class uses, but especially for popular evangelistic classes.

McCONAUGHY, JAMES.

Christ Among Men. (c) Cloth, .40 Paper, .25

Personal work is here taught by personal contact with Christ engaged in it. Twenty-five lessons unfold and apply His interviews with individuals. They stimulate one to follow His example and furnish guidance and training in doing so.

Great Events in the Life of Christ. (c) † Cloth, *.60

This new course covers the principal events of the gospels in their logical order, in twenty-five studies. It gives illuminating comment, asks thought-provoking questions and suggests applications to everyday living. It is illustrated with choice pictures presenting the different aspects of Christ's character.

McCOWAN, HERVEY SMITH.

Nurse and the Knight. Pamphlet, *.10 Per dozen, *.80; per hundred, *5.00, plus carriage; per thousand, *30.00, plus carriage.

This interesting little story, written primarily for the Soldier, is a strong plea for clean living.

Trail a Boy Travels and Other Stories. Cloth, illustrated, *1.00

The real human interest of these stories is what has given them their hold on the hearts of many people. The atmosphere of reality in which they are written gives force to their definitely practical and helpful messages. The opening story has helped many a lad to stick to the upward trail. The following chapters in this book are available in pamphlet form—Trail a Boy Travels; The Stranger's Story; The Letter He Was Ashamed Of; The Happiest Woman in All the World; The Son Thou Gavest Me; The Guests of the House.

Studies for devotional use, ten representative Psalms being treated with the development of the student's spiritual life especially kept in view.

MACKENZIE, W. DOUGLAS.

Christian Ethics in the World War. Cloth, *1.00

In this discussion of the State and the Church, and the place of war in the life of man, the author has avoided the technical aspects of each, concentrating directly on the main problems which disturb the Christian conscience as it struggles to live in a darkened world.

MACLEAN, J. KENNEDY.

Dr. Pierson and His Message. Cloth, *1.00

A biography treating of the subject's life, ministry and methods.

MACLEAN—SCLATER.

God and the Soldier. Cloth, *1.25

From a series of discussions among the chaplains in one of the great camps in France grew this vindication of orthodox Christianity as the religion of the fighting men.

It presents a fresh treatment of the old subjects —the responsibility of God for evil, the Atonement, Immortality in the light of the world-shaking events of the war.

MARRIOTT, A. E.

Suggested Athletics for Army Camps. Buckram, *.50

Though prepared primarily for Y. M. C. A. athletic directors in the army camps, military athletic officers also will find it full of valuable suggestions.

lightening translation of the New Testament into modern language. The utmost care has been taken to use English expressions that bring out the fine shades of meaning in the original. This translation has a "freshness and virility" that appeals to scholar, student and reader alike.

MORSE, RICHARD C.

History of the North American Young Men's Christian Associations. Cloth, *1.00

A comprehensive history of the Young Men's Christian Associations, with special reference to the development in North America.

My Life with Young Men. Cloth, illustrated, *3.50

Foreword by John R. Mott.

His fifty years of leadership and service have made Richard C. Morse a vital factor in nearly every historical development of the Association. Here, in his delightfully reminiscent way he writes of men and events—making of his autobiography a graphic history of the birth and growth of the Young Men's Christian Association in America.

MOTT, JOHN R., Editor.

Claims and Opportunities of the Ministry. Cloth, *.50

Ten chapters by leading educators and clergymen, with an introduction by former President Roosevelt, carefully planned to aid those who are seeking to turn the strongest young men toward the ministry as a life work. The chapters may also be had in separate pamphlet form. Prices in quantity upon application.

MOTT, JOHN R.

Decisive Hour of Christian Missions. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60

"His survey of the blended promise and menace of present conditions in non-Christian lands, of the rising spiritual tide and of the barriers rising to oppose it, is statesmanlike in its view of the possibilities of a history now in the making."—Outlook.

Future Leadership of the Church. Cloth, *.50

A searching study of the need for men of the highest type in the ministry and suggestions looking to the meeting of this need.

Intercessors—The Primary Need. .10; Per dozen, *.80

The argument is that prayer has power to bring things to pass, and that Christians are responsible for the use of that power—that they must use it if righteousness is to prevail in the world. The booklet contains related matter from the reports of Commissions of the World's Missionary Conference at Edinburgh.

What is Back of It All? Pamphlet, 100, *3.00; 500, *12.50; 1000, *18.50

A guardsman on the Mexican border asked this question as he saw the buildings put up by the Association for the comfort and well-being of the soldiers. This question Dr. Mott answers, after a short but comprehensive résumé of the many phases of work being done by the Association. It definitely answers the question as to the basis and motive that has developed the Association movement.

MOTT—EDDY.

Constructive Suggestions for Character Building. .10; per dozen, *.80

These well-known leaders, out of their wide experience and understanding of men and their needs, offer a message of great help to any Christian, but of special inspiration to those who have just made the Christian decision and are not clear as to just what steps they should take next.

MOULE, H. C. G., Bishop of Durham.

Light from the First Days. Boards, .40

A solid bridge over the years from the teaching of Christ to our own faith. Richard C. Morse writes: "It is an argument, convincing and conclusive, as to what has been and is today fundamental in the Christian faith."

MURRAY—HARRIS.

Christian Standards in Life (c) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.75

The second volume in the College Voluntary Study Courses, designed for second semester freshman groups. Twelve biographical studies, showing how the great dominant motive of life entered into the thoughts and actions of each character.

MURRAY, W. D.

Daily Readings in the Gospel of Mark. (b) † Boards, *.40

Life and Works of Jesus. (b) † Cloth, *.60; Student's edition, *.10; per dozen, *.80

This book, like the Gospel of Mark on which it is based, aims to present a vivid picture of the active, working, triumphant Christ. It contains suggestive passages of Scripture for memorizing and various notes of a devotional character. It has been translated into a dozen languages.

Message of the Twelve Prophets. (c) † Cloth, *.75; paper, *.50

Twenty-eight devotional studies of the minor prophets. Each book dealt with forms a study in itself for one or more weeks. Chronological charts give the place of the prophets in the history of the Hebrew people.

What Manner of Man is This? (a) † Cloth, *.40; paper, *.25

Selected incidents in the life of Christ are treated in this book with the purpose of awakening in the minds of young boys the question asked in the title. It consists of nineteen lessons and contains studies for various kinds of manual work, drawing, modeling, etc.

OBER, C. K.

Adventures in Faith. Boards, *.25; Paper, *.10; per dozen, *.80

True accounts of how men of widely varying capacities found the solution of their problems in the fellowship of Christ. They make Christianity real and show its great possibilities. Fine for distribution.

Out of the Fog. Introduction by DR. GRENFELL. Boards, *.50

An illustrated narrative of sea adventure. It leads up to the most clear and helpful analysis of conversion. Useful in all-the-year-round personal work as well as in evangelistic campaigns.

PARKHURST, C. H.

More Than Men. Boards, *.40

A clear, forceful presentation of spirituality as the basis of service. The author has put into this book, in striking phrases, the positive elements of a Christian.

PATTEE, FRED LEWIS.

Compelled Men. Boards, *.25
Paper, .15; per dozen, *1.20

A vigorous, brotherly message revealing the compelling forces, both good and evil, and their effects in human life. A sane and heartening call to men to welcome the ideal of Christ, and be compelled by it for their own happiness and the betterment of the race.

PEEL, A. W.

Calisthenic Exercises. Cloth, *.75

This book offers a wide variety of exercises by the use of which a discriminating leader can keep his drills varied and interesting. Fully a thousand exercises are given, from which a well-balanced drill can be readily selected.

PERKINS, R. R.

Comrades of Jesus. (a)
Student's section, *.10; per dozen, *.80

A course of ten lessons for boys' classes. Christ is suggested as the Great Comrade and the disciples are shown in their relation to Jesus and to each other.

Studies in the Character of Jesus. (c)
Leader's edition, paper, *.20
Student's section, *.15

A course of study which presents the eventful element in the life of Christ, emphasizing the most contagious view of His character as a means of stirring allegiance to him as "King of our lives."

PINER, H. L.

How to Hold a Job. *.10; per dozen, *.80

Practical counsel to boys presented in energetic talks that make direct inquiry as to causes of failure, and point out in detail those essential qualities which the business world is seeking. A book that will revive ambition and stimulate new resolve in the "average" boy, to whom it is dedicated.

PORTER, DAVID R., Editor.

The Enrichment of Prayer. Cloth, *.75

A manual for those who seriously desire to learn to pray, which brings together in suggestive form many of the devotional treasures of the ages.

Poems of Action. Cloth, *.75

A collection of the best shorter poems in the English language, which aims to do for younger readers what the Oxford Book of Verse and Palgrave's Golden Treasury have done for more mature lovers of good verse.

RAUSCHENBUSCH, WALTER.

Christianity and the Social Crisis.
(M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60; postpaid, .70

Ray Stannard Baker in his study of religion in America found that this book was more often and more approvingly referred to by religious leaders than any other volume on the same subject.

Social Principles of Jesus. (d) †
Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.75

Studies covering twelve weeks. An author who stands preeminent in the field of social Christianity, gives in these vivid studies his conception of the social principles enunciated by Jesus. The treatment is original throughout and marked by a constant reference to the present conditions that Christians are facing. College Voluntary Study Courses. Fourth year, Part I.

REEDER, G. AVERY.

Paul—A Soldier of the Cross. *.15
Per dozen, *1.50
Twenty-five or more, each, *.10

Twelve lessons in the life of Paul, showing his preparation, his call to service, his great work and his final triumph, portrayed in terms of our own daily life and experience in such a way as to lead men to apply the lessons to their personal needs. Stated in the forceful way that demands and receives more than superficial consideration.

RICHARDSON, NORMAN E.

Liquor Problem. Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered, pocket size. *.60

This handy little text-book, put up in pocket size, marshals all the forces of social, religious and economic facts against one of mankind's greatest enemies. It takes up the baneful effect of liquor upon the home, politics, industry, public schools; upon health and efficiency; upon individual and national life. There are fifteen lessons packed with carefully weighed material.

RITCHIE, FRANK H. T.

Community Work. Cloth, *.75

An important handbook on the application of Young Men's Christian Association principles to the uplift of small towns where it is not possible to erect a special building. Useful also in the conduct of extension work in large cities.

ROBERTS, PETER.

Civics for Coming Americans. Paper, *.50

The purpose of this book is to put within reach of the foreigner, having a fair command of the English language, such information as is required to pass the examination for naturalization. Also to provide intelligent guidance for those patriots who would gladly help "Coming Americans," but have no knowledge either of the aliens' needs or of the laws regulating the process of naturalization.

English for Coming Americans.
Teacher's manual. Cloth, *.50

A rational system of teaching English to foreigners quickly by calling to mind the familiar incidents of their daily life and showing them how to label each idea with the right word. Prepared after years of study of the methods that have been used. Those who have seen or used the system declare it to be the most practical and effective method ever devised.

There is a special edition for use in Canada. Send for latest circular.

SUGGESTIONS TO TEACHERS. Separate pamphlets for Series, A, B, & C; each *.10
Per dozen, *.80

CONVERSATION CARDS. For series B-General, B2-Anthracite and C-General, cards printed for practice in conversation, complete set packed in a neat box, per series *.75

BEGINNERS' READERS. Nos. 1 and 2, *.15 each; No. 3, *.20

An easily graded series of readers, with grammar exercises, leading the pupil naturally from the Preparatory Lesson Leaves to advanced material.

ADVANCED COURSE. Heavy paper binding *.50

This is for men who talk, read and write English fairly well, but who need help in Naturalization requirements. It is arranged in line with and designed to follow the leaflet lessons. Forty readings in history, government and geography, each reading followed by a language lesson intended to teach the meaning and use of words and the construction of sentences. The course aims to give the pupil a good working knowledge of the English language.

ENGLISH READER. Pamphlet, *.25

This reader for use in army cantonments is designed for men who have some knowledge of English, who can talk fluently and read some, but are not sure of their spelling and are puzzled about correct forms in writing.

CARDS. Teacher's Report Cards, Absentee Reminder Cards, Teacher Pledge Cards, Registration Cards.
25 for .25; 50 for .40; 100 for .75

These cards are of great help in standardizing methods and increasing efficiency in teaching English to foreigners.

Immigrant Races in North America. *.50

A study of the home environment and historic background of the twelve chief nationalities from which our old-world guests are coming. The Slavic, which includes the largest variety of elements, is treated under thirteen heads. Nearly a score of unusual illustrations add concreteness to the text.

Songs for Coming Americans. Paper, *.15
Per hundred, *7.50

This is a collection of fifty-five familiar songs, with the tune printed over the words and written in a key to suit male voices. It is suggested that it be used to relieve classroom monotony, and to help the men to a greater command of English—also to get the men acquainted with American home songs.

ROBERTSON, JAMES W.

Conservation of Life in the Rural Districts. Boards, *.25

A brilliant interpretation of man's relation to the country environment by the chairman of Canada's Royal Commission on Industrial Training and Technical Education.

ROBINSON, C. C.

Christian Teaching on Social and Economic Questions. Cloth, *.50
Daily readings, .10; per dozen, *.80

This is a course of twenty studies prepared to meet an imperative need. The moral and ethical questions involved in earning and spending, in individual striving for success and in cooperative activity, are clearly pointed out to the older boys and young men struggling to find their place in modern business and industry.

Wage Earning Boy. Boards, *.25

Dealing with his status and imperative needs and the adaptation of Association machinery and spirit to meet these needs; organization, leadership, and suggested program of activities with suitable bibliography.

ROBINSON, G. L.

Abiding Value of the Old Testament. Boards, *.35

The best possible introduction to Old Testament Bible study. Clear statement of the reasons for retaining the Old Testament both as a necessary interpreter of the New and for its intrinsic value.

Book of Isaiah. (d) † Cloth, *.50

The author is recognized as one of the most discerning and effective interpreters of Israel's commoner prophet. Fifteen studies.

Leaders of Israel. (c) † Cloth, *.50

A strong course of studies in the Old Testament. The character of Israel's leading men and the history of that people from Abraham to Christ are portrayed. There are twenty-five lessons, with maps and charts of peculiar interest and value.

SALLMON, W. H.

Life of Paul. (d) Cloth, 40; paper, .25

The character of Paul, in his varied experiences as student, hero, author, prisoner, etc., is dealt with in twenty-four lessons. An outline of Galatians and a chronology of Paul's life are included in the book.

Miracles of Jesus. (d) Cloth, .30
Paper, .20

Twenty topical studies based on Matthew but with references to the other gospels. Attempt is made in the study to find the motive and lessons of each miracle.

Parables of Jesus. (d) Cloth, .25
Paper, .15

Fifteen studies based on Matthew. The parables are viewed with reference both to Christ's divine character and teachings and their practical application.

SAYFORD, S. M.

Personal Work. Cloth, .75

Method and practice in work for individuals are presented by an experienced worker.

SCHENCK, F. S.

Christian Evidences and Ethics. (d) *.75

Prepared while the author was acting professor of Ethics and Evidences in Rutgers College to meet the needs of the students. The book is suitable not only for use in college classes but also for personal study.

SEE, E. F.

Teaching of Bible Classes. (d) Revised and enlarged by WILLIAM D. MURRAY. Cloth, *.75

Meant for the Bible teacher intent on training himself to make the most of his privilege, but without time to take an extensive course. In simple language, made interesting by illustrative material, it gives the main principles and practical methods of teaching the Bible. Each lesson is followed by quotations from the best books on the subject.

SHARMAN, H. B.

Jesus in the Records. (d) † Thin paper, art leather cloth, round cornered. *.75

A presentation of the story told by the synoptic gospels, with a series of wonderfully suggestive questions, which force the student to think for himself if he is to arrive at the real significance of the records.

Records of the Life of Jesus. Cloth, *2.50

Produced in the language and in the order of the original records. By a unique arrangement all of the advantages of the old Harmonies are retained without any of their disadvantages.

The consecutive story of each gospel is told but the arrangement allows for comparison of the same page of matter appearing in two or more gospels. It has been the plan to show on each page all related material from all parts of the records—either by direct parallelism or by attached references. On any page one may find the account of every occurrence within the records of those events or sayings that appear on that page.

Studies in the Life of Christ. (d) † Cloth, *1.25; paper, *.75
Studies, cloth, .75; Harmony, cloth, 1.00
Paper books not sold separately.
(No discounts on sets.)

This course has thirty studies of a historical and devotional character, and is based upon the Harmony of the Gospels by Stevens and Burton. The studies are chronological and there is opportunity for comparing the accounts found in the four gospels.

SMITH, FRED B.

Man's Religion. Cloth, *.50

A book of exceptional qualities, giving the impressions of a quarter of a century in the service of the Young Men's Christian Association. "Fred B. Smith was the dynamic leader of the Men and Religion Movement. It is a great book for the modern man—a book to nerve the man who has religion and put a mighty challenge before the man who has not religion."—The Continent.

Men Wanted. Cloth, *.50

The author, well known as "The greatest living Evangelist to Men," for years refused urgent calls from publishers and the public for a book. He at last yielded and has written a message in his own vigorous style. After a trip through the cheap lodging houses of the Bowery, Mr. Smith came to this conclusion, "There are too many men in the world." Later he decided that there are not enough of the right kind. His book shows how to get out of the "Too Many" class into the "Not Enough" class. It is preeminently a men's book.

SMITH, FRED B. (continued).

Observations of France and the War. Paper boards, *.—

A simple statement of vivid impressions; impressions of things seen and heard, people met and meetings participated in at over eighty different military centers from the seaports to the front trenches, to the battle lines and back to the rest camps. Special attention is given to the question of the morale and morality of the American Expeditionary Force.

SMITH, H. L.

Christian Race. (b) Teacher's edition. Cloth, *.75

A unique course of twenty-four lessons on the Life of Christ, supplemented by twenty-four biographical sketches of men who have "won out," and an equal number of studies of the elements of character that make up the "Christian athlete." The student's pad is incomplete without the larger book, which should be in the hands of the teacher.

SOPER, EDMUND DAVISON.

The Faiths of Mankind. (d) † Art leather cloth, round corners. *.75

"A complete elementary handbook on comparative religion"—while true, is an altogether inadequate description of so human, so vivid, and so altogether readable a little book as this. Mission study classes of many sorts will find it valuable for their uses. College Voluntary Study Courses. Third Year, Part II.

SPEER, ROBERT E.

How to Deal with Temptation. Boards, *.25. Paper, .10; per dozen, *.80

Temptation may be a source of either strength or weakness. This stimulating little book helps one to make his temptations a source of strength.

Marks of a Man. (M. & R. SERIES.) Cloth, *.60; postpaid, *.70

"Deals with Truth, Purity, Service, Freedom, and Progress. No one is doing more than Mr. Speer to mold the young men of today into noble patterns. This volume is in his best vein."—Interior.

Principles of Jesus. (M. & R. SERIES.) Cloth, *.60; postpaid, *.70

Mr. Speer prefers to treat of the practical questions of today rather than of those raised in the sphere of speculative thought. It is this practical Christo-centricism that is destined to carry the Gospel into the heart of the modern social world, as well as into the individual life.

Things That Make a Man. *.06
Per dozen, *.60

Every true-hearted young man wants to build up in himself a noble and worthy manhood. This little book points out the way that leads to such attainments.

STEWART, CORA WILSON.

Soldier's First Book. Pamphlet, *.25

The object of this little book, which is based on the language and operations of camp life, is to afford men in the United States army who are unable to read and write an easy and attractive vehicle for learning and one which will accustom them to the use of printed words and sentences with as little difficulty as possible.

STEWART, GEORGE, JR.

The Soldier's Spirit. Pamphlet, .10

The soldier's relation to his fellow soldier, his family, the enemy prisoner, etc., discussed in a common-sense, practical way. By no means a "preachy" book but the lesson for each day, covering a period of ten weeks, is the strongest kind of effective teaching. Prepared especially for army camp use.

Teaching Outlines for the Soldier's Spirit. Pamphlet, .05

SUPER—URICE.

Jesus as a Friend Saw Him.
Teacher's edition, *.15
Student's edition, *.15

Mark's gospel is really the story of Christ's life as told by Peter, Jesus' most intimate friend. These fifteen studies, based on Mark, give a most intimate story of His life. Prepared especially for the use of men in the army.

SWEET, LOUIS MATTHEWS.

Study of the English Bible. Cloth, *1.00

Constructive suggestions for acquiring biblical knowledge by studying the Bible itself, rather than books about the Bible. The author goes below all artificial and merely formal processes to a vital way of dealing with word, topic or book. The appendix gives outline studies and much other valuable matter. A book that gives a new vision of the pleasure and profit of Bible study.

THOMAS, W. H. GRIFFITH.

Methods of Bible Study. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60

A very direct treatment of the Bible itself as distinct from the mass of discussion about the Bible. It deals with the actual contents of the various groups of books, thus forming an introduction to the Bible as a whole that will make clearer a study of its parts.

THOMPSON, VANCE.

Drink and Be Sober. Cloth, *1.00

"It is as gripping as a play and as correct as a scientific treatise. The argument is searching, thorough and unanswerable, and is impressive because it is fair."—Ex-Governor Foss, of Massachusetts.

TOWNS, CHARLES B.

Injury of Tobacco. Per hundred, 1.50
Per thousand, 12.00

An impartial presentation of the harmful and far-reaching effects of the use of tobacco.

TRANSEAU, E. F., and C. F. STODDARD.

Some Modern Facts About Alcoholic Drinks. Per hundred, 1.50
Per thousand, 12.00

Practical consideration of alcoholism from a personal, business and social standpoint.

TRAWICK, A. M.

City Church and Its Social Mission.
Cloth, *.60

Well-directed suggestions tending to awaken in the city church a larger conscience and more effective recognition of its opportunity in the leadership of Social Service.

More importance is attached to the discovery of real conditions than to a review of general principles. The author urges each church to make a special study of its own equipment in relation to its environment.

TRUMBULL, C. G.

Men Who Dared. (a) †
Teacher's edition, cloth, *.40; paper, *.25
Student's edition, *.10
A set of sixteen half-tone pictures to illustrate the lessons, per set, *.10
Student's edition and pictures, each, per dozen, *.80

Eighteen lessons in Old Testament character study. Teachers find this an excellent elementary course.

Taking Men Alive. (c) Cloth, *.50

"Individual Work for Individuals," by Dr. H. C. Trumbull, is a narrative of striking experiences. "Taking Men Alive," by his son, discloses the principles underlying such work. For the individual student or the group. Unconventional, wholesome, and greatly needed.

TRUMBULL, H. C.

How to Deal with Doubts and Doubters. Cloth, *.65
Hungarian Edition. Translated by Frank Kovacs. Paper, *.25
Cloth, *.35

An excellent volume to place in the hands of one troubled by religious doubts; a splendid book to strengthen one's faith.

Individual Work for Individuals. (M. & R. Series.) Cloth, *.60; paper, *.25

The personal experiences of one of the best-known workers of modern times, and his convictions, make this one of the most important books ever published on this subject.

VEAL, RONALD TUTTLE.

Classified Bibliography of Boy Life and Organized Work with Boys.
Cloth, *1.00

A complete, up-to-date bibliography which will be of great value to the worker with boys.

WARBURTON, G. A.

the life of his community. Professor Henry T. Ward of Boston University and Secretary of the Social Commission of the Federal Council of Churches and Mr. R. H. Edwards, Social Service Secretary of the Student Young Men's Christian Association are the joint authors. Prepared from the viewpoint of the ordinary rather than the college community and therefore usable in all adult classes. Fourth Year, Part II, College Voluntary Study Courses.

WARNER, LUCIEN CALVIN.

Personal Memoirs of Lucien Calvin Warner. Cloth, *1.00

Dr. Warner has for many years stood for the highest type of consecrated layman. His reminiscences are full of human interest, tracing the course of a long and useful life through many and varied experiences. Dr. Warner served for a long period as Chairman of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, and his references to the beginnings and development of the movement will be of special interest to all Christian workers.

WEATHERFORD, W. D.

Christian Life—A Normal Experience. Cloth, *.60

Shows clearly how Christian experience grows and may become real in any life. It lays a new foundation of reason and fact for our Christian faith, and puts it squarely up to the individual to increase his faith by personal effort. The material is arranged in a series of studies, one for every day in the week of a three months' course, prefaced by an excerpt from the Bible.

Introducing Men to Christ. † Cloth, *.60

An attempt to make clear to men the steps which one takes in entering the Christian life, the results in one's life of becoming a Christian, the fundamental message of Christianity as compared with other religions, and the foundation stones upon which the Christian faith rests.

Negro Life in the South. Cloth, *.50

A well-arranged collection of concrete facts, by an open-minded Southerner who knows the Negro and who knows also what the Negro's white friends need to understand in order to help him. "A distinct addition to the swiftly gathering forces now crystallizing the sentiment of the South into an organized demand for the industrial education of the Negro."—Southern Workman.

Personal Elements in Religious Life. Cloth, *1.00

The basic theme of this book is that "to be a Christian is to be rightly related to all persons, God and men." From this definition the author builds his defense of Christian truth and his interpretation and exposition of the fundamental elements of Christian faith. Those who are charged with the religious leadership of thoughtful men and women have a distinct need for this book. "One of the truly great books of the present day."—Christian Advocate.

Present Forces in Negro Progress. Cloth, *.50

A fair-minded statement of conditions as they are. Intended to meet the supreme need of the hour for facts rather than theories. Supplemented by an excellent bibliography and index.

WEAVER, E. W.

Profitable Vocations for Boys. Cloth, *1.00

A valuable summary of the best information as to the conditions under which boys and young men may secure a foothold in the more profitable occupations; also practical suggestions as to how workers may advance themselves. A book that stands alone in its field.

WILDER, ROBERT P., Editor.

Red Triangle in the Changing Nations. Cloth, *.75

A collection of papers, each written by a secretary well qualified by actual experience, giving a descriptive treatment of the changing countries, Japan, South America, Mexico, the Western War Zone, etc., telling of the need and opportunities for the Y. M. C. A. in each and what the Association is doing to meet the situation.

WILDER, R. P.

How to Use the Morning Quiet Time. Pamphlet, .10
Per dozen, *.80; 100, plus carriage, *5.00

"By this is meant the time set apart each morning for communion with God, to realize His presence, know His will and receive His power." This little pamphlet discusses the advantages of the morning time and offers many helpful suggestions for the best way to spend it.

WILLIAMS, J. E. H.

Life of Sir George Williams. Cloth, *.75; postpaid, .85

There is inspiration, argument and method in this story of the life of the founder of the Young Men's Christian Association. It answers the old question—Can a successful modern business man be a Christian? He could. He was. Specially helpful as a guide in doing personal work.

WILLIS, HUGH EVANDER.

Law of Social Justice. Cloth, *1.00

An original treatment of the principles of the law of the Kingdom of Heaven. It is really a statement, from a lawyer's viewpoint and in legal form and phraseology, of the law of Jesus.

WILLMAN, L. K.

Men of the Old Testament. (c) † Cloth, *.60

Eighteen studies adapted for students in preparatory and high schools and other Bible classes. The lessons furnish an excellent introduction to, and historical outline of, the Old Testament by a study of some of its most prominent men.

WILSON, WOODROW.

Minister and the Community. Decorated boards. *.25

A clear note from one of the most highly honored laymen in our land, regarding the ideals of the church in respect to the position and opportunities of its ministry.

Points out the most effective way to make the ministry an ever increasing influence for enduring good among the people.

WOOD, H. G.

Personal Economy and Social Reform. Cloth, *.50

WOOD, W. M.

Round Table Discussions on Life Problems. (d) Paper, .15

These discussions are for those of more experience in considering the large things of Christianity, and include the claims of Christianity and questions of personal progress.

WOODS, E. S.

Modern Discipleship and What It Means. Cloth, *.75

The author's purpose is to indicate something of the meaning and inexhaustible significance of the Christian life; its amazing richness; the width of its outlook; its close relation to common life; the grandeur of its goal and the strength of its appeal to all the powers of body and mind.

WRIGHT, H. B.

Will of God. (e) † Cloth, *.60

The fundamental problem of the Christian life—self-surrender to the will of God—as stated and interpreted by Christ and the apostles. The studies fall under these four main heads: the Will of God and Self-surrender; the Decision to Do God's Will; the Finding Out of God's Will; the Issues of Facing the Problem of Doing God's Will. Twenty-five lessons.

WYCKOFF, ALBERT C.

The Science of Prayer. Cloth, *.75

Science and prayer are two subjects not often associated in men's minds, but, using the method of the scientist, the author here approaches the inexhaustible theme of prayer in a manner that stimulates the mind, strengthens faith, and makes one want to experiment further for himself with the possibilities of prayer.

MISCELLANEOUS TITLES

When motorists think of touring, they instinctively think of the

AUTOMOBILE BLUE BOOKS

America's Standard Road Guide

ANNUALLY SINCE 1901

This is the book that will tell any motorist how to reach any place that can be reached by automobile—

America's Standard Automobile Road Guide

Annually since 1901

It will give them detailed running directions to any place that can be reached by automobile—tell them how far any place is and whether the roads are good or bad—where to stop, where to eat, where to get gasoline and where the service stations are—what the speed laws and traffic regulations are en route—give them ferry and steamship schedules—point out to them the scenic and historic places the very time they pass them—warn them of curves, grades and railroad crossings ahead—help them plan their tours—tell them exactly where they are at any minute of their trip.

This is essential information to every motorist. It will add to the pleasure of their vacation. It will relieve them of care and worry.

Saves Money and Annoyance

The Automobile Blue Book will save its cost on their first day's run in keeping them off the wrong, rough roads that waste their gasoline, wear out their tires, rack their car and waste their time. It's annoying to ask questions, get wrong answers and have to turn back.

Over 415,000 Miles of Motor Roads

The 1919 Automobile Blue Book consists of eleven volumes—one for every section of the country—giving detailed running directions for over 415,000 miles of motor roads in the United States and Canada, with complete indexes and hundreds of maps.

Plans Trips in Advance

Weeks before they start they can plan their trips in every detail, from start to finish. The Automobile Blue Book will suggest hundreds of new places to see, with new ways to go and return. Then, on the road, the Blue Book will give them detailed directions for every mile.

Accurate and Up-to-date

Roads change constantly. Blue Book scout cars charted over 150,000 miles of motor roads in 1918—equal to the distance six times around the earth. The only dependable motorists' road guide for 1919 is the 1919 Automobile Blue Book.

This Blue Book Holder

will double the usefulness of a Blue Book

Built with a transparent face of celluloid—it enables the motorist to keep an open book before him all the time, in any wind or any weather. Two pages are constantly before him and pages may be turned without removing the book from the holder.

Automobile Blue Book Scout Cars charted this tremendous mileage, gathering data for the

1919 AUTOMOBILE BLUE BOOKS

Roads and road conditions change every year. To make each year's edition of the Automobile Blue Book absolutely accurate and dependable, ten Blue Book Scout Cars are constantly on the road throughout the United States, charting new roads, as well as old.

Fully one-third of the entire road mileage in each year's Automobile Blue Book is charted by Blue Book Scout Cars every year, insuring the up-to-dateness of every volume. The only dependable automobile road guide for 1919 is the 1919 Automobile Blue Book.

Every mile of road in the Automobile Blue Books is first actually charted by Blue Book Scout Car

POET LORE

POET LORE is the oldest and largest review in the English language devoted to poetry and drama. In its pages appears the best work of the world's greatest writers, and for thirty years it has been an active pioneer in promoting an interest in international letters. Maeterlinck, Hauptmann, Sudermann, Schnitzler, D'Annunzio, Gorki, Andreyev, Bjornson and Synge are among those POET LORE has introduced to the American public.

"Those who love the best in poetry and drama will find in POET LORE a literary feast." — The Pittsburg Post.

"It is a most excellent indication of the genuine love of high literature that the editors have been able to bring together so many distinct contributions of a suggestive and critical character. There is a freshness about the work which is inspiriting, and the study is of that which is worth while, not the tiresome praise of the second rate." — Atlantic Monthly.

"A periodical that stands steadfastly for good literature and for the value of poetry in all walks of life." — The Dial.

THE JOURNAL OF ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY

THE JOURNAL OF ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY stands as the representative of the scientific study of the abnormal phases of mind. It publishes the researches and practical conclusions of the most eminent representatives in this branch of study. To those who desire more than a vague general and more or less unreliable account of the present position and attainments of abnormal or medical psychology, THE JOURNAL OF ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY is the only source available. As official organ of the American Psychopathological Association and the British Psycho-Medical Society, its standing and authority are assured.

Edited by Morton Prince

Established 1906. Published bi-monthly. $1.00 a copy. $5.00 a year

A treatise on moulding and founding in green-sand, dry-sand, loam, and cement; the moulding of machine frames, mill-gear, hollow-ware, ornaments, trinkets, bells and statues; description of moulds for iron, bronze, brass and other metals; plaster of Paris, sulphur, wax, etc.; the construction of melting furnaces, the melting and founding of metals; the composition of alloys and their nature, etc., etc. A new edition, to which is added a supplement on statuary and ornamental moulding, ordnance, malleable iron castings, etc., by A. A. Fesquet. 5¼ by 7½. Cloth. 342 pages, 44 ills. $2.00

Painter, Gilder and Varnisher's Companion.

Comprising the manufacture and test of pigments, the arts of painting, graining, marbling, staining, sign-writing, varnishing, glass-staining and gilding on glass; together with coach painting and varnishing, and the principles of the harmony and contrast of colors. Twenty-seventh edition, revised, enlarged and in great part re-written by William T. Brannt. 5¼ by 7½. Cloth. 395 pages. 9 ills. $1.50

Richards, Joseph W.—Aluminium.

Its history, occurrence, properties, metallurgy and applications, including its alloys. 6¼ by 9¼. Cloth. (New edition preparing.)

Riffault.—Practical Treatise on the Manufacture of Colors for Painting.
Comprising the origin, definition and classification of colors; the treatment of the raw materials; the best formulae and the newest processes for the preparation of every description of pigment, and the necessary apparatus and directions for its use; dryers; the testing, application, and qualtities of paints, etc., etc. 6½ by 9¼. Cloth. 659 pages. 80 ills. $5.00

Rose, Joshua.—Complete Practical Machinist.
Embracing lathe work, vise work, drills and drilling, taps and dies, hardening and tempering, the making and use of tools, tool grinding, marking out work, machine tools, etc. Nineteenth edition, greatly enlarged with new and valuable matter. 5¼ by 8. Cloth. 504 pages. 395 ills. $2.50

Rose, Joshua.—Mechanical Drawing Self-Taught.
Comprising instructions in the selection and preparation of drawing instruments, elementary instruction in practical mechanical drawing, together with examples in simple geometry and elementary mechanism, including screw threads, gear wheels, mechanical motions, engines and boilers. 6¼ by 9¼. Cloth. 303 pages. 330 illustrations, including many full page, double page and folding plates. $3.50

Rose, Joshua.—Slide Valve Practically Explained.
Embracing simple and complete practical demonstrations of the operation of each element in a slide-valve movement and illustrating the effects of variations in their proportions, by examples carefully selected from the most recent and successful practice. 5¼ by 7½. Cloth. 100 pages. 35 ills. $1.00

Rose, Joshua.—Steam Boilers.
A practical treatise on boiler construction and examination, for the use of practical boiler makers, boilers users and inspectors; and embracing in plain figures all the calculations necessary in designing and classifying steam boilers. 6¼ by 9¼. Cloth. 258 pages. 73 ills. $2.00

Sherratt, R. J.—Elements of Hand-Railing.
Simplified and explained in concise problems that are easily understood. Founded on geometrical principles, and showing how to make rail without center joints, making better rail of the same material, with half the labor, and showing how to lay out stairs of all kinds. 10 by 14. Cloth. 120 pages. 38 plates. $2.50

Sloane, T. O'Conor.—Home Experiments in Science.
For old and young. A repertory of simple experiments with home-made apparatus, including mechanics, general and molecular physics, soap bubbles and capillarity; with detailed instructions in the necessary mechanical operations, and illustrations of the experiments and apparatus. 5¼ by 7½. Cloth. 261 pages. 96 ills. $1.00

Stokes, J.—Cabinet-Maker and Upholsterer's Companion.

Books on Education and Teaching

Besides his own publications Mr. Bardeen has for forty years dealt extensively in books on education and teaching, and has now in stock the largest collection on sale of such books and pamphlets, particularly sets of Educational Journals, Official Reports of all Countries, and of States and Cities, etc.

—THE SCHOOL BULLETIN PUBLICATIONS—

The School Bulletin

And New York State Educational Journal

Established 1874. 24 pages, 9x14. $1.00 a year

The School Bulletin is one of the three oldest educational journals in America, and the only one of them that has been under the same ownership and management from the beginning. It was the only American school journal which received the gold medal at the Paris Exposition of 1889; it received the highest award offered at the Chicago Exposition of 1893, the diploma pronouncing it "of the greatest interest and historical value to educators of all grades"; and it received two gold medals at the Paris Exposition of 1900. Its editor had charge of the department of Educational Publications at the World's Fair Congress of 1893, and prepared the article on Educational Journalism printed in the 50th anniversary volume of the National Educational association for 1906.

In the feature of educational news it has never had a rival. Its chronicles of what has happened in New York schools since its establishment are unmatched in educational literature, and it has taken note of whatever has happened in other states that involved general principles. It is abundantly illustrated, especially in portraits, of which more than 300 have appeared in a single volume.

It also publishes the most important circulars and decisions of the Education Department, and records of the meetings held and circulars issued by the District Superintendents; in short it is indispensable to the New York teacher who would be well-informed.

Dr. Sherman Williams, Chief of School Libraries, wrote us May 25, 1913: "I have read the School Bulletin from the first number, I think. I read no other periodical with so much satisfaction. Your reports of educational meetings are not equalled by any other writer. Your general surveys of the educational field are very remarkable. Your knowledge of human nature is unusual. Your wealth of information is marvellous. All these qualities enable you to make the School Bulletin the remarkable paper that it is."

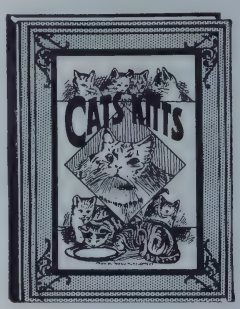
ANIMAL BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Author of the well-known Billy Whiskers Books



The best way to instruct children is to tell them a story. The better the story, the more lasting the impression on the young mind. These stories, told in the simple and charming style for which this authoress is noted, will serve a two-fold purpose—entertainment for the children, and an acquaintance with many well-known facts concerning animal life. Each book contains eight full-page illustrations in four colors and six full-page black-and-white drawings by Hugo Von Hofsten.

6 titles. Cloth, size 6¼ x 8¼ inches, with cover design in colors. Per vol. 50 cents.

THE KNEETIME ANIMAL STORIES

BY RICHARD BARNUM.

For children from four to nine years old.

In all nursery literature animals have played a conspicuous part; and the reason is obvious for nothing entertains a child more than the antics of an animal. These stories abound in amusing incidents such as children adore, and the characters are so full of life, so appealing to a child's imagination, that none will be satisfied until they have met all of their favorites—Squinty, Slicko, Mappo, Tum Tum, Don, etc.

Each book contains six pen-and-ink drawings and a half-tone frontispiece, is printed on paper of good quality, bound in cloth, and wrapped with wrapper printed in four colors.

Twelve titles. Cloth. Size 5¼ x 7⅞ inches. Illustrated Per volume, 50 cents.

.....1 Squinty, the Comical Pig.
.....2 Slicko, the Jumping Squirrel.
.....3 Mappo, the Merry Monkey.
.....4 Tum Tum, the Jolly Elephant.

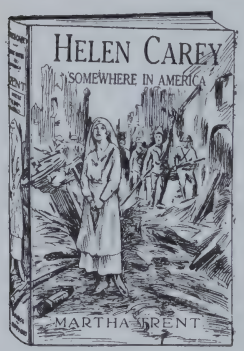
*THE SOMEWHERE SERIES



BY MARTHA TRENT.

Around a central figure, "half girl, half boy, and the better half of each," the author has written a fascinating story laying the plot first in America and subsequently, in the other stories, in other countries. The author's intimate knowledge and deep insight into the life and surroundings of the young heroines in the various countries add distinct educational value to the pronounced charm and quaintness of the stories. A peculiarly timely series of books for young readers who have been following the progress of the war. Each book contains four illustrations and is wrapped in a full color jacket.
